Histories and criticism of comics note that comic strips published in the Progressive Era were dynamic spaces in which anxieties about race ethnicity class and gender were expressed perpetuated and alleviated The proliferation of comic strip children white and nonwhite middle class and lower class male and female suggests that childhood was a subject that fascinated and preoccupied Americans at the turn of the century Many of these strips including R F Outcault s Hogan s Alley and Buster Brown Rudolph Dirks s The Katzenjammer Kids and Winsor McCay s Little Nemo in Slumberland were headlined by child characters Yet no major study has explored the significance of these verbal visual representations of childhood Incorrigibles and Innocents addresses this gap in scholarship examining the ways childhood was depicted and theorized in late nineteenth and early twentieth century comic strips Drawing from and building on histories and theories of childhood comics and Progressive Era conceptualizations of citizenship and nationhood Lara Saguisag demonstrates that child characters in comic strips expressed and complicated contemporary notions of who had a right to claim membership in a modernizing expanding nation Israel ,1900 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1884

Translation, Pornography, Performativity Douglas Robinson,Xiaorui Sun,2025-04-11 Robinson and Sun s book goes in search of the neglected metaphors of translation in pornography using poststructuralist rethinkings and reframings of porn and masturbation from Jacques Derrida to Judith Butler In his 1684 Essay on Translated Verse the Earl of Roscommon attacked want of decency in translation metaphorically by comparing it to picking up prostitutes in the park raking the park for stews instead of hanging out with troops of faultless nymphs Sex work and the graphic representation of sex work that Nathaniel Butler was the first to call pornography in print in 1638 is used as a metaphor for non normative translation which in Robinson and Sun s hands becomes experimental translation En route to that goal the authors take us through Butler on performativity and resistance Derrida on supplementarity and iterability and Haun Saussy s innovative application of Derridean citationality to the use of a target cultural sponsor or bondsman for translation They take detours through Charles Baudelaire s Une charogne and J G Ballard s The Drowned Giant They deal with the performativity of pornography and translatoigraphy in Part I the unnatural iterability of masturbation and translation in Part II and experimental translation in Part III The theory littered path this book takes through the metaphors of translation will be of interest to scholars and students of translation studies especially experimental translation and translation theory but also media scholars interested in the philosophical complexities of performativity The Drowning Season Alice Hoffman,2014-09-23 From the author of The Rules of Magic A novel of a Long Island family matriarch and her namesake granddaughter who discover the power the past holds over their present Esther the Black is eighteen years old and ready to leave the Compound the collection of cottages on the North Shore of Long Island where she has lived all her life But as July turns to August and her family braces for the height of Drowning Season she realizes that she may not be able to escape her family s legacy Her father will find a way through the locked sea wall gate and try to drown himself in the harbor her mother will be too hung over to leave her
