

New York: The City of My Dreams

5 pages | 1230 words

Everyone has a place that helps bring clarity to their life, and for me that place is New York City. Someone may ask, what is so great about New York City? What draws all these people from around the world to this one spot? I believe there is something special, or dare I say magical, about this city. For me, New York City has impacted how I think about diversity, where things originate, and how important it is to feel like you belong. On my first trip to NYC, I flew into LaGuardia airport. From the sky I was able to see how this city physically stood apart. Upon leaving for my trip to NYC, I was unsure of what to expect because it had always been a dream of mine to visit this city that sits on an island. It's crazy to think that according to Wikipedia this place is only "13.4 miles in length, and 2.3 miles in width". Most people don't realize that most of the famous places they have seen on TV sit on this island called Manhattan. It's also important to remember that just as the island is small, it is also very diverse. I had heard and read stories about the people of New York and the East Coast. The stories were of how rude they are, how they fight non-New Yorkers, and so on and so forth. Let me tell you, that is not the experience that I had. I believe you must take the people of NYC for who they are. They are a fast-paced society, and they don't want you to get in their way. If you treat them with respect, then they will treat you with the same respect just as you would hope. According to Wikipedia's "Manhattan" article, there are a lot of people that call New York City home, well "8,622,698 to be exact per the latest poll from 2017". The number increases if you add the total number of tourists that visit throughout the year. "At the end of 2017, Wikipedia states that a total of 62.8 million tourists visited NYC, with 13.1 million being international tourists". This place has a special energy and a unique heartbeat that draw people here. The island of Manhattan is made up of "56 different neighborhoods" that are all eccentric. From Chinatown, Little Italy, SoHo, Times Square, Hell's Kitchen, and the Financial District, every one of these neighborhoods offers something unique. I had my first New York style pizza slice at John's Pizza of Times Square, and it was delicious. In Chinatown, I had dumplings, boba drinks, and a cone crepe filled with nutella, strawberries, and bananas. On the Upper West Side, there is a little place called Jacob's Pickles that has become the highlight of each trip and holds a special place in my heart. They serve a dish that consists of two fluffy pancakes, three chicken strips, syrup, and they top it off with bacon crumbles. This dish has become my all-time favorite meal to eat while in NYC, because it always brings me back to my first time...

Rethinking Smart Urbanism Prince K. Guma, 2021-01-03 Rethinking Smart Urbanism is an empirical exploration of the multiple ways in which cities and infrastructures are constructed and reconstructed through ICT innovation and appropriation Drawing on the case of Kenya's capital Nairobi the study explains existing infrastructure constellations through countervailing processes and rationalities in the context of splintered urbanism In doing so the study examines the relationship between urban plans and digital infrastructure development place based contexts that shape digital infrastructures and the extent to which these infrastructures facilitate utility companies' ambitions of extending centralized networks to new territories It draws on the theoretical and empirical base of urban and infrastructure studies particularly in the fields of smart urbanism postcolonial urbanism and Science and Technology Studies Methodologically the study adopts a qualitative research design and presents in depth case studies that combine ethnographic methods with a thorough investigation of written sources Ultimately it is hoped to enhance our understanding of urban and digital possibilities and add new insights to debates on technology and urbanity in Africa and beyond

A History of Babylonia and Assyria Robert William Rogers,1915 My Cocaine Museum Michael

Taussig,2009-12-19 In this book a make believe cocaine museum becomes a vantage point from which to assess the lives of Afro Colombian gold miners drawn into the dangerous world of cocaine production in the rain forest of Colombia s Pacific Coast Although modeled on the famous Gold Museum in Colombia s central bank the Banco de la Rep blica Taussig s museum is also a parody aimed at the museum s failure to acknowledge the African slaves who mined the country s wealth for almost four hundred years Combining natural history with political history in a filmic montage style Taussig deploys the show and tell modality of a museum to engage with the inner life of heat rain stone and swamp no less than with the life of gold and cocaine This effort to find a poetry of words becoming things is brought to a head by the explosive qualities of those sublime fetishes of evil beauty gold and cocaine At its core Taussig s museum is about the lure of forbidden things charged substances that transgress moral codes the distinctions we use to make sense of the world and above all the conventional way we write stories

Phil's Favorite 500 Phil Berardelli,2015-08-10 Phil Berardelli has been in love with movies ever since his first encounter as a little boy thrilled him and then scared the daylights out of him In the intervening years including a six year stint as a TV movie critic Phil has seen at least 5 000 titles Here he has put together a list of his 500 favorites which he has separated into 50 categories He has accompanied each one with informative witty and often insightful capsule comments along with bits of trivia formatting descriptions and where available links to online trailers clips and full length versions Newly updated for 2014 and containing 24 new titles plus a new section of recommended books Phil s Favorite 500 encompasses everything Phil has learned in over half a century of moviegoing The list includes something for everyone adults couples children teens and families and covers some of the greatest movies ever made both in the U S and elsewhere as well as some of the cinema s most entertaining clunkers Many of his choices and omissions may surprise you But in all cases Phil makes compelling arguments for sampling these titles If you do sample them you might just find yourself adding many of them to your own list of favorites Sampled browsed or read from beginning to end Phil s Favorite 500 reflects a love of the medium that is contagious and his descriptions will help you view even the most familiar movies in a new and very entertaining way movie love Set in Ottawa in the 1990s it is the quixotic tale of tall thin Harriet Browning inflamed by the movies she was deprived of as a child Harriet is a woman so saturated with the movies seen repeatedly and swallowed whole that she no longer fits into this world Bent on seeing everything she has missed she forms a Friday night movie club with three companions of the screen a boy who loves Frank Sinatra a girl with Bette Davis eyes and an earthy sidekick named Dinah for Dinah Shore Breaking in upon this quiet backwater in time with the devastating ice storm of 1998 come two refugees from Hollywood the faded widow of a famous screenwriter and her movie expert stepson They are Harsh Reality With them come blackouts arguments accidents illness and sudden death But what chance does real life stand when we can watch movies instead What hope does real love have when movie love in all its brief intensity is an easy option In this comedy of secondhand desire movies and movie lovers come first Literature and the Glocal City Ana María

Fraile-Marcos,2014-07-17 The modern city is a space that can simultaneously represent the principles of its homeland alongside its own unique blend of the cultures that intermingle within its city limits This book makes an intervention in Canadian literary criticism by foregrounding both globalism which is increasingly perceived as the state of the art literary paradigm and the city These are two significant axes of contemporary culture and identity that were previously disregarded by a critical tradition built around the importance of space and place in Canadian writing Yet as relevant as the turn to the city and to globalism may be this collection s most notable contribution lies in linking the notion of glocality that is the intermeshing of local and global forces to representations of subjectivity in the material and figurative space of the Canadian city Dealing with oppositional discourses as multiculturalism postcolonialism feminism diaspora and environmentalism this book is an essential reference for any scholar with an interest in these areas The academy ,1888 Prince of Stories
