Geography Memorandum 2014:

Children of Migrants in China Kam Wing Chan, Yuan Ren, 2020-11-25 Children are precious in China especially as its population ages rapidly The unprecedented fast urbanization and massive internal migration have profoundly changed almost every aspect of society They have impacted the livelihood of children of migrants most Because of the hukou system and related policies China's internal migrants face major obstacles to assimilate into cities But more than that as this book shows these policies have also torn families apart on a scale unseen heretofore More than 100 million children grow up in unstable families and the great majority have suffered from prolonged separation from their parents in the migratory upheaval This book provides an updated analysis of this mega and painful process unfolding at various geographical scales The chapters revolve around the central notion of family togetherness or the lack thereof The book measures dissects and analyses the impacts of migration on children and recommends policies to address major problems from a variety of disciplinary perspectives employing different methodologies The problems faced by the children of migrants remain enormous and it is a looming huge crisis in the making If unaddressed those problems can damage a whole generation with serious consequences The chapters in this book were first published in Eurasian Geography and Economics

The Boundaries of Belonging Bernadette Nadya Jaworsky, 2016-12-09 This book addresses an issue currently making political headlines in the United States immigration Immigrants have long engendered debates about the boundaries of belonging with some singing their praises and others warning of their dangers In particular the 11 million unauthorized immigrants in the country provoke heated disagreements with issues of legality and morality at the forefront Increasingly such debates take place online by organizations in the immigrant rights and the immigration control movements who engage in symbolic work that includes blurring crossing maintaining solidifying and shifting the boundaries of belonging Based on data collected from 29 national level groups this book features a cultural sociological analysis of the online materials deployed by social movement organizations debating immigration in the United States

Asymmetric Crisis in Europe and Possible Futures Johannes Jäger, Elisabeth Springler, 2015-04-10 The crisis in Europe is often discussed as a crisis of European integration or a crisis of national economies within Europe Both the methodological Europeanism and methodological nationalism miss out the important links between economic and political processes at different spatial scales within Europe and therefore asymmetries and phenomena of uneven development In addition a discussion of possible scenarios which systematically addresses the implications of anti crisis policies is missing This volume seeks to close this gap by systematically integrating the analysis of economic policy or technical solutions to the crisis within a broader framework of political economy It argues that combining critical political economy approaches and post Keynesian perspectives allows for a systematic understanding of the economic and political dimensions of the crisis Although both approaches have the capacity to deal with asymmetries and uneven development the heterogeneity in Europe has been an often largely neglected dimension of analysis However this recent crisis has shown that this is an essential dimension which has to be addressed in order to better understand the dynamics of European development and integration Hence this book aims to deal with asymmetries in Europe and to bridge the gap between the two perspectives This work will initiate an integrative debate that is crucial for a deeper understanding of the current crisis and is an important resource for all students and scholars of IPE European political economy and European politics

Raced Markets Lisa Tilley, Robbie Shilliam, 2021-05-30 Despite rich archives of work on race and the global economy most notably by scholars of colour and Global South intellectuals the discipline of Political Economy has largely avoided an honest confrontation with how race works within the domains it studies not least within markets By way of corrective this book draws together scholarship on the material function of race at various scales in the global political economy The collective provocation of the contributors to this volume is that race has been integral to the formation of capitalism as extensively laid out by the racial capitalism literature and takes on new forms in the novel market spaces of neoliberalism The chapters within this volume also reinforce that the current political conjuncture marked by the ascension of neo fascist power cannot be defined by an exceptional intrusion of racism nor can its racism be dismissed as epiphenomenal Raced Markets will be of great value to scholars students and researchers interested in political economy and racial capitalism as well as those willing to explore how race takes on new forms in the novel market spaces of contemporary neoliberalism The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the New Political Economy

The African Metropolis Toyin Falola, Bisola Falola, 2017-08-07 On a planet where urbanization is rapidly expanding nowhere is the growth more pronounced than in cities of the global South and in particular Africa African metropolises are harbingers of the urban challenges that lie ahead as societies grapple with the fractured social economic and political relations forming within these new often mega cities The African Metropolis integrates geographical and historical perspectives to examine how processes of segregation marginalization resilience and resistance are shaping cities across Africa spanning from Nigeria and Ghana to Kenya Ethiopia and South Africa The chapters pay particular attention to the voices and daily realities of those most vulnerable to urban transformations and to questions such as Who governs Who should the city serve Who has a right to the city And how can the built spaces and contentious legacies of colonialism and prior development regimes be inclusively reconstructed In addition to highlighting critical contemporary debates the book furthers our ability to examine the transformations taking place in cities of the global

South providing detailed accounts of local complexities while also generating insights that can scale up and across to similar cities around the world This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies urban development and human geography
