

Human Body: Lymphatic System

The lymphatic system plays a vital role in the body's immunity. Lymphatic vessels transport lymph, a fluid containing infection-fighting white blood cells, from body tissues into lymph ducts that drain into lymph nodes.

Tonsils are in the back of the throat, on both sides. Tonsils aid in fighting off pathogens but sometimes become infected. A tonsillectomy can be performed to remove infected tonsils.

Lymphocytes are a type of white blood cell that produces antibodies for immunity.

The thymus is a lymphatic organ located between the lungs and acts as storage for lymphocytes.

Lymph Nodes

Lymph nodes are small, oval-shaped nodes that occur in clusters throughout the body. They contain lymphocytes and help defend the body against infection.

Superficial lymph nodes are highly concentrated in the cervical (neck), axillary (arm pit), and inguinal (groin) regions. These are palpable and are often used as indicators of infection.

Spleen

The spleen is a lymphatic organ located in the upper abdomen, behind the stomach. Its function is to filter blood's debris and old red blood cells. Lymphocytes are also stored here.

Student Notebook and Study Guide to Accompany The Human Body Bruce Wingerd, Patty Bostwick Taylor, 2013-02-01

This Student Notebook and Study Guide is the ideal companion to Bruce Wingerd's The Human Body. It reinvents the traditional study guide by giving students a tool to help grasp information in class and reinforce learning outside of class. Too often, students struggle to both learn the concepts presented and simultaneously record crucial information. The Student Notebook and Study Guide provides a structure for recording in-class material that parallels the text's concept presentation and includes supplemental questions and activities for assignment outside of the classroom. A complete answer guide for both the in-class and out-of-class materials is available online.

UNITED STATES SPECIAL OPERATIONS COMMAND DEPARTMENT OF EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICE AND PUBLIC HEALTH Advanced Tactical Practitioner (ATP) Certification Examination Student Study Guide, 2006-11-19.

PREFACE The Commander, United States Special Operations Command (USSOCOM), directed that all Special Operational Forces (SOF) Medics be trained to a single interoperable standard. He directed that the USSOCOM's Advanced Tactical Practitioner's ATP Critical Task List (CTL) be implemented into all SOF enlisted medical training as a minimum standard. Upon completion of SOF medical training, all SOF students are required to sit and successfully pass the USSOCOM Advanced Tactical Practitioner's Certification Examination as official recognition and proof of the student's knowledge of the CTL medical requirements. This study guide reflects the hybrid nature of the USSOCOM certification examination. Where applicable, SOF medical requirements and standards have been merged with the DOT-based curriculum. The DOT civilian standards of care are always applicable to the military, but there may be times when it is difficult to achieve. Many questions on the examination will be appropriate in either setting. Where so there has been an attempt both on the examination and in this study guide to differentiate the standard of care in the pertinent setting. The ATP student will find that like the Department of Transportation's Curriculum and the National Registry's Certification program and any other Medical Certification process, most of the material covered within the pages of this study guide will be covered during the student's formal phase of instruction. However, some of it may not. The student must recognize that not all subject material can be taught in a formal setting. It is the ATP student's responsibility to use this study guide to complement their formal instruction in preparation to successfully pass the USSOCOM ATP Certification.
