Man and Temple in Ancient Jewish Myth and Ritual Raphael Patai,1967 Man and Temple, in Ancient Jewish Myth and Ritual Raphael Patai,1947 Encyclopedia of Jewish Folklore and Traditions Raphael Patai,2015-03-26 This multicultural reference work on Jewish folklore legends customs and other elements of folklife is the first of its kind On Jewish Folklore Raphael Patai,2018-02-05 The essays collected in this volume some of which are presented for the first time in English translation provide a rich harvest of Jewish customs and traditional beliefs gathered from all over the world and from ancient to modern times On Jewish Folklore spans a half century of scholarly inquiry by the noted anthropologist and biblical scholar Raphael Patai He essays collected in this volume some of which are presented for the first time in English translation provide a rich harvest of Jewish customs and traditional beliefs gathered from all over the world and from ancient to modern times Among the subjects Dr Patai investigated and recorded are the history and oral traditions of the now vanished Marrano community of Meshhed Iran cultural change among the so called Jewish Indians of Mexico beliefs and customs in connection with birth the rainbow and the color blue Jewish variants of the widespread custom of earth eating and the remarkable parallels between the rituals connected with enthroning a new king as described in the Bible and as practiced among certain African tribes Fields of Offerings Victor D. Sanua,1983 This Festschrift celebrates the multifaceted career of Raphael Patai presenting twenty two articles on Jewish folklore and mythology Jewish and Middle Eastern ethnology and anthropology the social psychology of Arabs and Jews Jewish cultural history and Zionism All of these are fields in which Raphael Patai has made major contributions Early Christian Monastic Literature and the Babylonian Talmud Michal Bar-Asher Siegal,2013-12-23 This book examines literary analogies in Christian and Jewish sources culminating in an in depth analysis of striking parallels and connections between Christian monastic texts the Apophthegmata Patrum or The Sayings of the Desert Fathers and Babylonian Talmudic traditions The importance of the monastic movement in the Persian Empire during the time of the composition and redaction of the Babylonian Talmud fostered a literary connection between the two religious populations The shared literary elements in the literatures of these two elite religious communities sheds new light on the surprisingly inclusive nature of the Talmudic corpora and on the non polemical nature of elite Jewish Christian literary relations in late antique Persia The Temple at Jerusalem John Michell,2000-09-01 The author s new revelation is that the Old City of Jerusalem can be seen as one large temple the original Temple of King Solomon Using street maps of the Old City legends of the Temple s original measurements and the numerical laws of the ancient canon he reveals an existing temple within the streets of Jerusalem The essence of the temple is its plan which contains the key to forgotten knowledge the blueprint by which the universe was made and the lost canon that provided laws and standards The Atoning Dyad: The Two Goats of Yom Kippur in the Apocalypse of Abraham Andrei Orlov,2016-01-12 The study explores the eschatological reinterpretation of the Yom Kippur ritual found in the

Apocalypse of Abraham where the protagonist of the story the patriarch Abraham takes on the role of a celestial goat for YHWH while the text's antagonist the fallen angel Azazel is envisioned as the demonic scapegoat The study treats the application of the two goats typology to human and otherworldly figures in its full historical and interpretive complexity through a broad variety of Jewish and Christian sources from the patriarchal narratives of the Hebrew Bible to early Christian materials in which Yom Kippur traditions were applied to Jesus story

Material Mystery Karmen MacKendrick, 2021-08-17 Material Mystery considers three apparently anthropocentric myths that are central to Abrahamic religions those of the primal human the incarnated and possibly divine redeemer and the resurrected body At first glance these stories reinforce a human centered theology and point to a very anthropomorphic God Taking them seriously seems to ignore the material turn in the humanities entirely with the same sort of willful ignorance that some of our politicians show in declaring that their myths count as facts or that the point of the rest of the world is to further human consumption But it is possible Karmen MacKendrick shows to read these figures through a particular tradition that emerges from the Hebrew Bible the tradition of Wisdom as a creative force Wisdom texts are common across the ancient Near East As the idea of creative Wisdom develops from antiquity into the middle ages it gathers philosophical influences from a range of philosophical traditions This exuberantly promiscuous impurity intellectual artistic and theological generates new interpretive possibilities In these interpretations each human like figure opens up onto the world's matter as an interdependent part of it and matter is thoroughly mixed with divinity Such mythic readings complement our factual scientific understanding of the material world to engage wider kinds of knowing and affective attention particularly Wisdom's combination of care and delight
