Finin, Steven Willmott, 2006-03-30 There is a growing interest in the use of ontologies for multi agent system applications On the one hand the agent paradigm is successfully employed in those applications where autonomous loosely coupled heterogeneous and distributed systems need to interoperate in order to achieve a common goal On the other hand ontologies have established themselves as a powerful tool to enable knowledge sharing and a growing number of applications have benefited from the use of ontologies as a means to achieve semantic interoperability among heterogeneous distributed systems In principle ontologies and agents are a match made in heaven that has failed to happen What makes a simple piece of software an agent is its ability to communicate in a social environment to make autonomous decisions and to be proactive on behalf of its user Communication ultimately depends on understanding the goals preferences and constraints posed by the user Autonomy is the ability to perform a task with little or no user intervention while proactiveness involves acting autonomously with no need for user prompting Communication but also autonomy and proactiveness depend on knowledge The ability to communicate depends on understanding the syntax terms and structure and the semantics of a language Ontologies provide the terms used to describe a domain and the semantics associated with them In addition ontologies are often complemented by some logical rules that constrain the meaning assigned to the terms These constraints are represented by inference rules that can be used by agents to perform the reasoning on which autonomy and proactiveness are based Automobile Book 2002 Consumer guide, 2002 This 2002 edition of the only complete new car buying guide includes profiles and photos of new models retail and dealer invoice prices mileage ratings warranties and safety features Also includes consumer tips on shopping leasing lemon laws insurance and much more TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY'S FUEL SUFFICIENCY ROADMAP STEVE ESOMBA, Dr., 2012-06-06 We badly need new sources of clean energy to generate electricity heat and power our industries homes and workplaces Up to now we have relied on and used only fossil fuels to power our industrial and domestic activities The byproducts of fossil fuels include irreversible pollution and contamination of our Earth climate change global warming and increase in pathogenic and medication resistant diseases Exhaustible fossil fuels are expensive to produce and distribute and not everybody can afford them Why not switch to natural non polluting inexpensive inexhaustible fuels such as solar wind water etc fuels This is the timely message contained in TWENTY FIRST CENTURY'S FUEL SUFFICIENCY
