Bus Priority Measures (1988-1993), 1993 Transport in Cities Brian Richards, 1990 As traffic grinds to a halt in most of the major cities of the developed world at enormous environmental and economic cost this book examines the many alternatives to the unregulated use of private cars The belief of many planning committees that everyone that drives is shown to be both fallacious and dangerous leading inevitably to the blighting of inner cities as leisure and shopping facilities move to the urban fringes

Proceedings [of the Conference], 1986 Report Australia. Department of Construction, 1976

The Great Flood Edward Platt, 2019-10-31 A BBC Radio 4 Book of the Week Flooding has always threatened the rainy wind swept islands of the United Kingdom but it is becoming more frequent and more severe Combining travel writing and reportage with readings of history literature and myth Edward Platt explores the way floods have shaped the physical landscape of Britain and left their mark on its inhabitants During the course of two years which coincided with the record breaking floods of the winter of 2013 14 Platt travelled around the country visiting places that had flooded and meeting the people affected He visited flooded villages and towns and expanses of marsh and Fen threatened by the winter storms and travelled along the edge of the drowned plain that used to connect Britain to continental Europe He met people struggling to stop their houses falling into the sea and others whose homes had been engulfed He investigated disasters natural and man made and heard about the conflicting attitudes towards those charged with preventing them The Great Flood dramatizes the experience of being flooded and considers what will happen as the planet warms and the waters rise illuminating the reality behind the statistics and headlines that we all too often ignore
