Kazimierczuk, Agasthya Ayachit, 2015-08-13 Designed to complement a range of power electronics study resources this unique lab manual helps students to gain a deep understanding of the operation modeling analysis design and performance of pulse width modulated PWM DC DC power converters Exercises focus on three essential areas of power electronics open loop power stages small signal modeling design of feedback loops and PWM DC DC converter control schemes and semiconductor devices such as silicon silicon carbide and gallium nitride Meeting the standards required by industrial employers the lab manual combines programming language with a simulation tool designed for proficiency in the theoretical and practical concepts Students and instructors can choose from an extensive list of topics involving simulations on MATLAB SABER or SPICE based platforms enabling readers to gain the most out of the prelab inlab and postlab activities The laboratory exercises have been taught and continuously improved for over 25 years by Marian K Kazimierczuk thanks to constructive student feedback and valuable suggestions on possible workroom improvements This up to date and informative teaching material is now available for the benefit of a wide audience Key features Includes complete designs to give students a quick overview of the converters their characteristics and fundamental analysis of operation Compatible with any programming tool MATLAB Mathematica or Maple and any circuit simulation tool PSpice LTSpice Synopsys SABER PLECS etc Quick design section enables students and instructors to verify their design methodology for instant simulations Presents lab exercises based on the most recent advancements in power electronics including multiple output power converters modeling current and voltage mode control schemes and power semiconductor devices Provides comprehensive appendices to aid basic understanding of the fundamental circuits programming and simulation tools Contains a quick component selection list of power MOSFETs and diodes together with their ratings important specifications and Spice models The Fundamentals of Scientific Research Marcy A. Kelly, 2015-09-15 The Fundamentals of Scientific Research An Introductory Laboratory Manual is a laboratory manual geared towards first semester undergraduates enrolled in general biology courses focusing on cell biology This laboratory curriculum centers on studying a single organism throughout the entire semester Serratia marcescens or S. marcescens a bacterium unique in its production of the red pigment prodigiosin The manual separates the laboratory course into two separate modules The first module familiarizes students with the organism and lab equipment by performing growth curves Lowry protein assays quantifying prodigiosin and ATP production and by performing complementation studies to understand the biochemical pathway responsible for prodigiosin production Students learn to use Microsoft Excel to prepare and present data in graphical format and how to calculate their data into meaningful numbers that can be compared across experiments The second module requires that the students employ UV mutagenesis to generate hyper pigmented mutants of S. marcescens for further characterization Students use experimental data and protocols learned in the first module to help them develop their own hypotheses experimental protocols and to analyze their own data Before each lab students are required to answer questions designed to probe their understanding of required pre laboratory reading materials Questions also guide the students through the development of hypotheses and predictions Following each laboratory students then answer a series of post laboratory questions to guide them through the presentation and analysis of their data and how to place their data into the context of primary literature Students are also asked to review their initial hypotheses and predictions to determine if their conclusions are supportive A formal laboratory report is also to be completed after each module in a format similar to that of primary scientific literature
