such experiences within texts or through writing With its working definition of sisterhood covering biological as well as all kinds of symbolic and metaphysical connotations this book exams the literary and cultural representations of this elastic notion with attention to on the one hand a supposedly collective identity shared by all modern Chinese female subjects and on the other hand the contesting modes of womanhood that were introduced through the juxtaposition of divergent sisters Through an interdisciplinary approach that brings together historical materials literary and cultural analysis and theoretical questions Zhu conducts a careful examination of how new identities subjectivities and sentiments were negotiated and mediated through the hermeneutic circuits around sisterhood The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1926
