Ladies Of Horror 2014:

Women and Fairness Eva Lambertsson Björk, Jutta Eschenbach, Johanna M. Wagner, 2021-05-07 This collection brings together scholars from various disciplines to ask fundamental questions concerning how women handle the manifold impediments placed before them as they simply attempt to live full human lives The collection explores narratives of women real and fictional who fight against these barriers who succumb to them who remain unaware of them or choose to ignore them It explores the ways we read women in cultural production and how women are read in society We assert the obstacles constructed into the very fabric of societies against fifty percent of the population are unfair be they hindrances for women to attain their goals encumbrances that limit women s speech and societal participation communal and artistic or hindrances that prohibit specific behaviors and images of women

Women Make Horror Alison Peirse, 2020-09-17 Winner of the the 2021 Best Edited Collection Award from BAFTSS Winner of the 2021 British Fantasy Award in Best Non Fiction Finalist for the 2020 Bram Stoker Award for Superior Achievement in Non Fiction Runner Up for Book of the Year in the 19th Annual Rondo Halton Classic Horror Awards But women were never out there making horror films that s why they are not written about you can t include what doesn t exist Women are just not that interested in making horror films This is what you get when you are a woman working in horror whether as a writer academic festival programmer or filmmaker These assumptions are based on decades of flawed scholarly critical and industrial thinking about the genre Women Make Horror sets right these misconceptions Women have always made horror They have always been an audience for the genre and today as this book reveals women academics critics and filmmakers alike remain committed to a film genre that offers almost unlimited opportunities for exploring and deconstructing social and cultural constructions of gender femininity sexuality and the body Women Make Horror explores narrative and experimental cinema short anthology and feature filmmaking and offers case studies of North American Latin American European East Asian and Australian filmmakers films and festivals With this book we can transform how we think about women filmmakers and genre

Hollywood's Monstrous Moms Kassia Krone, 2024-04-22 From Carrie and Rosemary s Baby to Us Hereditary and Run the image of the mentally ill mom as villain looms large in the horror genre What do these movies communicate about mothers living with mental illness and how do these depictions affect them Portraying mentally ill moms as problems to be overcome often by their own children perpetuates harmful stereotypes with potential real world consequences such as the belief that these women are unfit to bear or raise children More compassionate representations are needed to lessen the social stigma associated with the mentally ill Fortunately some of the contemporary horror films are attempting to achieve that task with critical success Using case studies from a broad range of films including the classic campy slasher or prestige and placing them within their historical context this work extends conversations about horror and mental illness such as post partum depression bulimia Munchausen by proxy syndrome and others Highlighting the trope of the mentally ill mother as a pervasive image within the genre furthers examination of how these films challenge or reflect existing stereotypes and illustrates how horror can be both a site of oppression and a source for positive transformation Focus On: 100 Most Popular Actresses from New York City Wikipedia contributors, Women's Human Rights Shelly Grabe, 2018 This book contributes to the discussion of why women's human rights warrants increased focus in the context of globalization Further it also illustrates how psychology can provide the links between transnational feminism and the discourse on women's human rights by drawing on activist scholarship and empirical findings based on grassroots resistance

Female Identity in Contemporary Fictional Purgatorial Worlds Simon Bacon, 2023-08-10 Examining fictional purgatorial worlds in contemporary literature film and video games this book examines the way in which the female characters trapped within them construct identity positions of resistance and change With the rise of populism the Alt Right and isolationism in world politics in the second decade of the 21st Century parallel purgatorial worlds seem to currently proliferate within popular culture across all media including television shows and films such as The Handmaid's Tale Us Watchmen and Margaret Atwood's The Testaments among many others These texts depict alternate worlds that express the darkness and violence of our own arguably none more so than for women Featuring essays from a broad range of international contributors on topics as wide ranging as mental health in the Silent Hill franchise and liminal spaces in the work of David Mitchell this book is an original timely and hope filled analysis about overcoming the confines of a patriarchal fundamentalist world where the female imaginative might just be the last best hope

Nobody's Girl Friday J. E. Smyth, 2018-03-02 Looking back on her career in 1977 Bette Davis remembered with pride Women owned Hollywood for twenty years She had a point Between 1930 and 1950 over 40% of film industry employees were women 25% of all screenwriters were female one woman ran MGM behind the scenes over a dozen women worked as producers a woman headed the Screen Writers Guild three times and press claimed Hollywood was a generation or two ahead of the rest of the country in terms of gender equality and employment The first comprehensive history of Hollywood's high flying career women during the studio era Nobody's Girl Friday covers the impact of the executives producers editors writers agents designers directors and actresses who shaped Hollywood film production and style led their unions climbed to the top during the war and fought the blacklist Based on a decade of archival research author J E Smyth uncovers a formidable generation working within the American film industry and brings their voices back into the history of Hollywood Their achievements struggles and perspectives fundamentally challenge popular ideas about director based auteurism male dominance and female disempowerment in the years between First and Second Wave Feminism Nobody's Girl Friday is a revisionist history but it's also a deeply personal collective account of hundreds of working women the studios they worked for and the films they helped to make For many years historians and critics have insisted that both American feminism and the power of women in Hollywood declined and virtually disappeared from the 1920s through the 1960s But Smyth vindicates Bette Davis's claim The story of the women who called the shots in studio era Hollywood has never fully

Agencies and Subjectivities in Film and Television Diğdem Sezen,Feride Çiçekoğlu,Aslı Tunç,Ebru Thwaites

Diken,2020-10-29 This volume provides an overview of the landscape of mediated female agencies and subjectivities in the last decade In three sections the book covers the films of women directors television shows featuring women in lead roles and the representational struggles of women in cultural context with a special focus on changes in the transformative power of narratives and images across genres and platforms This collection derives from the editors multi year experiences as scholars and practitioners in the field of film and television It is an effort that aims to describe and understand female agencies and subjectivities across screen narratives gather scholars from around the world to generate timely discussions and inspire fellow researchers and practitioners of film and television Women in Neoliberal Postfeminist Television

Drama Cat Mahoney,2019-11-07 In this insightful book Cat Mahoney offers a fascinating analysis of contemporary TV dramas such as Home Fires Land Girls and The Bletchley Circle Developing the idea that history is told through the preoccupations of the present she argues compellingly that these are postfeminist dramas which work through troubling ideas about heteronormative romance domesticity beauty and whiteness while reinforcing the idea that feminism as a political movement is not necessary A bold and original contribution to television studies gender studies and popular history Rosalind Gill City University of London UK By examining contemporary television drama set during and immediately after the Second World War this book illustrates the ways in which postfeminism has shaped representations of women in contemporary culture Mahoney offers a new perspective to debates that have previously been concerned with questions of historical accuracy She argues that depictions of women from the past in modern television drama spawn from the neoliberal postfeminist media climate which originated in the 1990s These depictions respond to a cultural need to naturalise and de historicise a version of neoliberal postfeminist femininity that is compatible with the current media climate and far more reflective of the concerns of the present than any real or lived experience of women in the past The result of this process of naturalisation is the assertion that postfeminist values are natural and eternal rather than a product of the 1980s economic turn and the present political moment By identifying and interrogating postfeminist norms within four television drama series produced since the 2008 financial crash this book argues that postfeminism is a dominant structuring force in their depiction of female characters and of the past Bon Appetit: Stories & Recipes for Human Consumption Hydra M.
