identity and culture emerge through talk that circulates within and among various groups including Mazatec speaking businessmen curers peasants intellectuals anthropologists bureaucrats cavers and mushroom seeking tourists Specifically he traces how these groups express their sense of culture and identity through narratives about three nearby yet strange discursive worlds the magic world of psychedelic mushrooms and shamanic practices the underground world of caves and its associated folklore of supernatural beings and magical wealth and the world of the past or the past present relationship

Feinberg s research refutes the notion of a static Mazatec identity now changed by contact with the outside world showing instead that identity forms at the intersection of multiple transnational discourses
