Industrial Labor in the Colonial World Jim Jones,2002 This is the first major study of a pivotal episode in West African history the great railroad strike of 1947 48 examined from the perspective of Africans who worked and lived along the Dakar Niger railroad As the first inter territorial movement to oppose colonial rule the railroad workers inspired pan Africanists everywhere and prepared the way for the decolonization of French West Africa African railroad workers operated the railroad the major economic artery of Senegal and especially the Soudanso they acted as intermediaries between Africans and French in colonial society During the strike they successfully challenged European privileges by employing a combination of French legal tactics and the railroad itself which offered the means of transportation and communication The workers received widespread support from other Africans thanks to the common perception that colonial labor practices were abusive The strikers were generally successful and their settlement became a precursor to the 1952 Overseas Labor Code that regulated working conditions in all French colonies As the strike unfolded however it exposed antagonism between African politicians and labor that reappeared often violently at independence Although independence came peacefully to the region served by the Dakar Niger the politicians completely outflanked the railroad workers and left them largely irrelevant except as a symbol of anticolonial resistance Readers of the Sembene novel God s Bits of Wood will find their perspective of this great African novel enriched by this historical study Those interested in railroad and labor history will find this study a rewarding experience as well Servants of Allah Sylviane A. Diouf,1998-11-01 Despite the explosion in work on African American and religious history little is known about Black Muslims who came to America as slaves Most assume that what Muslim faith any Africans did bring with them was quickly absorbed into the new Christian milieu But surprisingly as Sylviane Diouf shows in this new meticulously researched volume Islam flourished during slavery on a large scale Servants of

Allah presents a history of African Muslim slaves following them from Africa to the Americas It details how even while enslaved many Black Muslims managed to follow most of the precepts of their religion Literate urban and well traveled Black Muslims drew on their organization and the strength of their beliefs to play a major part in the most well known slave uprisings Though Islam did not survive in the Americas in its orthodox form its mark can be found in certain religions traditions and artistic creations of people of African descent But for all their accomplishments and contributions to the cultures of the African Diaspora the Muslim slaves have been largely ignored Servants of Allah is the first book to examine the role of Islam in the lives of both individual practitioners and in the American slave community as a whole while also shedding light on the legacy of Islam in today s American and Caribbean cultures Choice Outstanding Academic Title of 1999

British Imperialism and Globalization, C. 1650-1960 Gareth Austin, 2022 Examining the domestic politics of imperial expansion these essays question the role of the Industrial Revolution and British imperial leadership beyond the issue of hierarchy and The Great Divergence This volume brings together leading global economic historians to honour Patrick O Brien s contribution to the establishment of global economic history as a coherent and respected field in the academy Inspired by O Brien s seminal work on the British Industrial Revolution as a global phenomenon these essays expand the role of the Industrial Revolution and British imperial leadership beyond the issue of hierarchy and The Great Divergence The change from the protective Atlantic empire 1650 1850 to the free trade empire of the last half of the long nineteenth century is elaborated as are the conscious efforts of the free trade empire to develop markets and market economies in Africa British domestic politics associated with the change and the continuation to the recent politics of Brexit are fascinatingly narrated and documented including the economic rationale for imperial expansion in the first instance The narrative continues to the crises of globalization caused by the world wars and the Great Depression which forced the free trade British Empire to change course Further the effects of the crises and the imperial reaction on the East African colonies and on New Zealand and Australia are examined Given current concerns about the environmental impact of economic activities it is noteworthy that this volume includes the environmental impact of globalization in India caused by the free trade policy of the British free trade empire

Living Where We Dont Make The Rules Ebrahim Rasool, 2022 This work operates from the premise that today 90 percent of countries worldwide have significant minorities that constitute at least ten percent of their populations One in four Muslims lives in minority situations in almost every part of the world Some have assimilated and forfeited their practices and identities in order to belong while others have isolated themselves with others who share their language national origin culture or religion But there are also Muslims who have been able to manage both their Islamic identity and other elements of identity that come with their new places of residence Living Where We Don t Make the Rules is a guide that in pursuing the third option balances theoretical rigour with practical direction It includes the lived experience of those on the forefront of living as minorities but also the scholarship of those who apply the synthesis of Islam s timeless values norms and principles with the exigencies of the frontiers where Muslims find themselves in It provides leadership that can guide everyday life manage our faith direct partnerships with fellow citizens and campaigns for inclusivity Abeokuta and the Camaroons Mountains Sir Richard Francis Burton,1863 Abeokuta and the Camaroons Mountains Richard-Francis Burton,1863 Strange Sisters Francesca Orestano,2009 This collection of essays stems from the conference Nineteenth Century Literature and Aesthetics which was held at the University of Milan in 2006 and organised by the editors of this volume The interface between word and image covered in these essays embraces the fields of literature architecture painting photography music and art criticism The authors stress the role of aesthetics in a number of contexts ranging from the early 1830s to the fin de si cle and beyond as far as the last influences of Victorian taste on the early years of the twentieth century During the nineteenth century the ancient interaction between literature and aesthetics was challenged and criticised by Martineau Rossetti Ruskin Pater Wilde Beardsley Cameron and Carroll among others their awareness of the complexity of visual perception problematised the existing categories of realism artistic conventions discourse of description translation and representation The essays cover almost a century of debate between literature and aesthetics They focus on the intersection of word and image by emphasising transgressions in art hierarchies forms and languages which restyle existing categories and project them into new aesthetic dimensions beyond the conventional idea of the sister arts Recreating Africa James H. Sweet,2004-07-21 Exploring the cultural lives of African slaves in the early colonial Portuguese world with an emphasis on the more than one million Central Africans who survived the journey to Brazil James Sweet lifts a curtain on their lives as Africans rather than as incipient Brazilians Focusing first on the cultures of Central Africa from which the slaves came Ndembu Imbangala Kongo and others Sweet identifies specific cultural rites and beliefs that survived their transplantation to the African Portuguese diaspora arguing that they did not give way to immediate creolization in the New World but remained distinctly African for some time Slaves transferred many cultural practices from their homelands to Brazil including kinship structures divination rituals judicial ordeals ritual burials dietary restrictions and secret societies Sweet demonstrates that the structures of many of these practices remained constant during this early period although the meanings of the rituals were often transformed as slaves coped with their new environment and status Religious rituals in particular became potent forms of protest against the institution of slavery and its hardships In addition Sweet examines how certain African beliefs and customs challenged and ultimately influenced Brazilian Catholicism Sweet s analysis sheds new light on African culture in Brazil s slave society while also enriching our understanding of the complex process of creolization and cultural survival Africa from the Sixteenth to the Eighteenth Century Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa,1999 Decolonisation and the Pacific Tracey Banivanua Mar,2016-04-26 This book charts the previously untold story of decolonisation in the oceanic world of the Pacific Australia and New Zealand presenting it both as an indigenous and an international phenomenon Tracey Banivanua Mar reveals how the inherent limits of decolonisation were laid bare by the historical peculiarities of colonialism in the region and demonstrates the way imperial powers conceived of decolonisation as a new form of imperialism She shows how Indigenous peoples responded to these limits by developing rich intellectual political and cultural networks transcending colonial and national borders with localised traditions of protest and dialogue connected to the global ferment of the twentieth century The individual stories told here shed new light on the forces that shaped twentieth century global history and reconfigure the history of decolonisation presenting it not as an historic event but as a fragile contingent and ongoing process continuing well into the postcolonial era
