Language, Identity and Cycling in the New Media Age Patrick Kiernan, 2017-09-21 This book examines how identities associated with cycling are evoked narrated and negotiated in a media context dominated by digital environments Arguing that the nature of identity is being impacted by the changing nature of the material and semiotic resources available for making meaning the author introduces an approach to exploring such identity positioning through the interrelated frameworks of Systemic Functional Linguistics and Multimodal Analysis and illustrates how this happens in practice The book is divided into three parts each of which focuses on a different aspect of identity and media environment Part I considers celebrity identities in the conventional media of print and television Part II investigates community and leisure sporting identity through an online cycling forum while Part III examines corporate identity realised through corporate websites consumer reviews and Youtube channels This unique volume will appeal to students and scholars of discourse analysis applied linguistics and the world of cycling

Generation 1.5 in College Composition Mark Roberge, Meryl Siegal, Linda Harklau, 2009-02-12 A well organized volume with a strong emphasis on pedagogy Trudy Smoke Hunter College City University of New York USA Generation 1.5 is the most interesting topic of concern in ESL today yet publications are few and far between The editors clearly know what they're doing They know the field know the subject matter and understand the problems This volume contributes to the thinking in the field Linda Lonon Blanton University of New Orleans USA Building on the work that has been done over the past decade this volume provides theoretical frameworks for understanding debates about immigrant students studies of students schooling paths and language and literacy experiences and pedagogical approaches for working with Generation 1.5 students. Generation 1.5 in College Composition is designed to help both scholars and practitioners reconceptualize the fields of College Composition and TESOL and create a space for research theory and pedagogy focusing on postsecondary immigrant ESL students. It provides both important new theoretical work which lays the underpinnings for serious pedagogical innovation and important new pedagogical approaches. Because of their varied and complex language and literacy profiles, Generation 1.5 students are found in developmental English courses, college ESL courses, and mainstream college writing courses. This volume is directed to preservice and inservice teachers, teacher educators, and researchers involved with educating Generation 1.5 students in these and other contexts.

Anti Islam Hate Speech : Persuasion through interpersonal meaning Diah Ikawati Ayuningtias, 2024-10-16. Drawing from a range of disciplines including linguistics, sociology, and cultural studies, this book seeks to provide a comprehensive analysis of hate speech as a form of communication. We aim to highlight the importance of understanding these interpersonal meanings as they are crucial for combating hate and fostering more inclusive societies.
