Mamorandum Of Geography March 2paper:

Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents, 1975 The United States and the End of British Colonial Rule in Africa, 1941-1968 James P. Hubbard, 2014-01-10 At the end of World War II Britain possessed a vast African empire encompassing nearly 27 million square miles about 10 times larger than Britain itself But by 1965 only three small African territories remained under British control all of which would become independent before the end of 1968 This book examines the swift demise of Britain's African empire looking particularly at the role played by the United States in bringing the empire to an end It reveals how the United States was anti colonial without being actively pro independence concluding that the country's policies and actions combined with its postwar dominance directly and indirectly contributed to the political economic and social transformation of Africa The Aftermath of Partition in South Asia Gyanesh Kudaisya, Tan Tai Yong, 2004-03-01 This book draws upon new theoretical insights and fresh bodies of data to historically reappraise partition in the light of its long aftermath It uses a comparative approach by viewing South Asia in its totality rather than looking at it in narrow national terms As the first book to focus on the aftermath of partition it fills a distinctive niche in the study of contemporary South Asia The Delimitation of the Continental Shelf between Denmark, Germany and the Netherlands Alex G. Oude Elferink, 2014-01-09 Alex G Oude Elferink's detailed analysis of the negotiations between Denmark Germany and The Netherlands concerning the delimitation of their continental shelf in the North Sea makes use of the full range of government archives in these three States He looks at the role of international law in policy formulation and negotiations and explores the legal context political considerations and in particular oil interests which fed into these processes He also explains why the parties decided to submit their disputes to the International Court of Justice and looks at the preparation of their pleadings and litigation strategy before the Court The analysis shows how Denmark and The Netherlands were able to avoid the full impact of the implications of the Court's judgment by sidestepping legal arguments and insisting instead on political considerations Difficult Folk? David Mills, 2008 How should we tell the histories of academic disciplines All too often the political and institutional dimensions of knowledge production are lost beneath the intellectual debates This book redresses the balance Written in a narrative style and drawing on archival sources and oral histories it depicts the complex pattern of personal and administrative relationships that shape scholarly worlds Focusing on the field of social anthropology in twentieth century Britain this book describes individual departmental and institutional rivalries over funding and influence It examines the efforts of scholars such as Bronislaw Malinowski Edward Evans Pritchard and Max Gluckman to further their own visions for social anthropology Did the future lie with the humanities or the social sciences with addressing social problems or developing scholarly autonomy This new history situates the discipline's rise within the post war expansion of British universities and the challenges created by the end of Empire Records of the American Commission to Negotiate Peace United States. Field, Asa E. Munson, Drawing Futures Bob Sheil, Frédéric Migayrou, Luke Pearson, Laura Allen, 2016-11-11 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas Report of the Committee of Council on Education (England and Wales), with Appendix Great Britain.
