Write Like a Sumerian!

Cuneiform is noted as the oldest form of writing, systems were developed in Mesopotamia as a method of communication. Cuneiform included a combination of pictographs, symbols representing entire words and phonograms (symbols representing a syllable or sound). Early Sumerian writing began as a pictographic system with simple pictures and symbols, which represented a whole object or idea. Sumerians developed pictures of objects and animals to represent the words for those objects and animals. Over time, Sumerian Cuneiform symbols became more abstract, representing sounds. The evolution of the phonetic system of writing provided a more efficient way to communicate. This was a revolutionary development because it allowed Sumerians to write words without having to draw a picture of the object or animal it represented.
