English Language Teaching (ELT) Christoph Haase, Natalia Orlova, Joel Cameron Head, 2018-12-14 While the field of ELT studies sees continued horizontal and vertical diversification it is also time to take stock of what has made the discipline the field it presents itself as today As horizontal diversification we can identify trends that involve a continued inclusion of more fields of study into the family of methods and approaches of ELT Especially in the technical sense e learning has matured and new forms of online learning and teaching have emerged be it via teleconferences or short message services for vocabulary training However a massive extension has occurred within the so called social media The vertical dimension affects a depth of analysis not seen even a decade ago when for example small and relatively simple learner corpora were used for linguistic analysis that rarely went beyond rote frequency counts The increasing sophistication in these two dimensions is also reflected in the research papers collected in this volume Creativity in Word Formation and Word Interpretation Lívia

Stress Variation in English Alexander Tokar, 2017-11-13 This monograph is concerned with the question of why some English words have more than one stress pattern E g overt vs o vert pulsate vs pul sate etc It is argued that cases such as these are due to the fact that the morphological structure of one and the same English word can sometimes be analyzed in more than one way Thus overt is the stress pattern of the suffixation analysis over t whereas o vert is due to the prefixation analysis o vert cf covert Similarly pulsate is simultaneously pulse ate i e a suffixed derivative and a back derivative from pul satance Tokar s approach in the use of both dictionary OED and corpus data YouTube holds promise of a scholarly breakthrough on the vital linguistic prosodic topic of English stress assignment of doublets and of stress assignment in general Irmengard Rauch Professor of Germanic Linguistics at the University of California Berkeley
