Information Systems Architecture and Technology: Proceedings of 40th Anniversary International Conference on Information Systems Architecture and Technology - ISAT 2019 Zofia Wilimowska, Leszek Borzemski, Jerzy Świątek, 2019-09-04

This three volume book highlights significant advances in the development of new information systems technologies and architectures. Further, it helps readers solve specific research and analytical problems and glean useful knowledge and business value from data. Each chapter provides an analysis of a specific technical problem followed by a numerical analysis, simulation, and implementation of the solution to the real world problem. Managing an organization especially in today's rapidly changing environment is a highly complex process. Increased competition in the marketplace especially as a result of the massive and successful entry of foreign businesses into domestic markets changes in consumer behaviour and broader access to new technologies and information calls for organisational restructuring and the introduction and modification of management methods using the latest scientific advances. This situation has prompted various decision making bodies to introduce computer modelling of organization management systems. This book presents the peer reviewed proceedings of the 40th Anniversary International Conference Information Systems Architecture and Technology ISAT held on September 15-17, 2019 in Wrocław, Poland. The conference was organised by the Computer Science Department, Faculty of Computer Science and Management, Wrocław University of Sciences and Technology and University of Applied Sciences in Nysa, Poland. The papers have been grouped into three major sections. Part I discusses topics including but not limited to artificial intelligence, methods, knowledge discovery and data mining, big data, knowledge based management, Internet of Things, cloud computing and high performance computing, distributed computer systems, content delivery networks and service oriented computing. Part II addresses various topics such as system modelling for control, recognition and decision support, mathematical modelling in computer system design, service oriented systems and cloud computing and complex process modelling. Part III focuses on a number of themes like knowledge based management, modelling of financial and investment decisions, modelling of managerial decisions, production systems management and maintenance, risk management, small business management and theories and models of innovation.

Integrated pest management of major pests and diseases in eastern Europe and the Caucasus

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-09-03. The Integrated Pest Management (IPM) is an ecosystem approach to managing pests through understanding the crop ecosystem as a basis of good crop management decisions and support the sustainable intensification of crop production and pesticide risk reduction. Often low levels of populations of some pests are needed to keep natural enemies in the field and the aim of IPM is to reduce pest populations to avoid damage levels that cause yield loss. The IPM is still directly associated with pests and defined as a knowledge intensive process of decision making that combines various strategies: biological, cultural, physical and chemical, regular field monitoring of the crops etc. that focuses on reduction of pesticide use to sustainably manage

Rule Barbara Junisbai, 2025-02-15 In The Pitfalls of Family Rule Barbara Junisbai questions the conceptual divide separating democracy from nondemocracy as well as that separating strong authoritarian rulers from weak ones. Focusing on patronage endemic to post Soviet Eurasia but also present the world over, she untangles the spoils agreements that bind elites to strongman presidents. Incorporating multiple case studies including an in depth investigation into Kazakhstan over the span of twenty plus years, Junisbai demonstrates the power of institutional norms to hold seemingly unconstrainable rulers accountable in surprising and unexpected ways. Strong autocrats can stumble even when they set in place robust presidential institutions while weak autocrats can endure by upholding normative contracts that elites perceive as fair and just. An important lesson emerges from The Pitfalls of Family Rule: not even the most personalist of regimes functions free of rules. The institutions over which autocrats claim control also lay claim over them.

It highlights the challenges and the need for active participation of communities for change in behaviour, increasing institutional capacities of municipalities for standardising and scaling up strategies which work. The authors highlight the need for designing low cost solutions, organising informal sanitation workers serving marginalised communities and building effective alliances between communities and institutions to influence public policy. Cold Peace: Avoiding the New Cold War Michael W. Doyle, 2023-04-25 An urgent examination of the world barreling toward a new Cold War By 1990 the first Cold War was ending The Berlin Wall had fallen and the Warsaw Pact was crumbling following Russia's lead cries for democracy were being embraced by a young Chinese populace The post Cold War years were a time of immense hope and possibility They heralded an opportunity for creative cooperation among nations an end to ideological strife perhaps even the beginning of a stable international order of liberal peace But the days of optimism are over As renowned international relations expert Michael Doyle makes hauntingly clear we now face the devastating specter of a new Cold War this time orbiting the trilateral axes of Russia the United States and China and exacerbated by new weapons of cyber warfare and more insidious forms of propaganda Such a conflict at this phase in our global history would have catastrophic repercussions Doyle argues stymieing global collaboration efforts that are key to reversing climate change preventing the next pandemic and securing nuclear nonproliferation The recent devastating invasion of Ukraine is both an example and an augur of the costs that lay in wait However there is hope Putin is not Stalin Xi is not Mao and no autocrat is a modern Hitler There is also an unprecedented level of shared global interest in prosperity and protecting the planet from environmental disaster While it is unlikely that the United States Russia and China will ever establish a warm peace there are significant reasonable compromises between nations that can lead to a détente While the future remains very much in doubt the elegant set of accords and non subversion pacts Doyle proposes in this book may very well save the world
