Teaching Adult Numeracy: Principles & Practice Griffiths, Graham, Stone, Rachel, 2013-09-01 This book offers friendly guidance on how to work with adult learners to develop their numeracy and mathematics skills It brings together current research and practice on teaching adult numeracy into one handy volume and covers the major issues faced by teachers of adult numeracy such as current policy perspectives and implications for teaching practice There are reflective tasks throughout which encourage you to develop and apply your theoretical knowledge to your own experiences Key features include Reviews of existing policy and research and implications for practice Reflective tasks with commentary encouraging you to develop and apply your knowledge Case studies of real student experiences Practical activities and ideas to support the planning teaching and assessment of adult numeracy Drawing on the substantial experience of the contributors who have a wealth of experience as practitioners and researchers in the field this book is an essential resource for trainee and practising teachers of adult numeracy and mathematics It is also an ideal textbook to support teacher training courses leading to a subject specific qualification in teaching numeracy to adults Contributors Jackie Ashton John Barton Carolyn Brooks Martyn Edwards Janette Gibney David Holloway David Kaye Beth Kelly Barbara Newmarch Helen Oughton David Prinn Diana Spurr Rebecca Woolley This is a quite unique book about teaching adult numeracy which will be invaluable to the many practitioners in this field The chapters contributed by a group of experienced and successful lecturers and practitioners include all aspects of this field from methods of teaching specific mathematical topics to more general explorations of dyscalculia and emotional factors in adult learners Each chapter includes research findings and thoughtful presentation of ideas with practical ideas for teaching and tasks for the reader This is a market which has not been served well in the past so it is good to see the gap filled at last Margaret Brown Emeritus Professor of Mathematics Education King s College London UK The editors of this book set out to produce a text that would support teacher education programmes for adult numeracy and their book does that and more The content covers different types of learners different settings different understandings of what numeracy actually is and ranges from commentary on research through case studies to how to hints and tips for teaching Chapters 7 on provoking mathematical thinking and 8 attitudes beliefs and teaching should be a required read for any adult numeracy teacher The book would be at home on any numeracy teacher s desk and would make an excellent set text for numeracy teacher training courses Carol Randall course co ordinator for numeracy in the department of Lifelong Learning Teacher Education University of Greenwich UK This book is a welcome addition to the growing literature on adult numeracy It should be essential reading for trainee and practising adult numeracy educators It brings together relevant research and professional wisdom on a wide variety of aspects of adult numeracy teaching and learning in an accessible way with well focussed tasks for readers to extend their knowledge and understanding While the book is born out of UK concerns and issues it is also relevant to international readers Highly recommended Professor Diana Coben PhD Director National Centre of Literacy Numeracy for Adults University of Waikato New Zealand and Hon Trustee Adults Learning Mathematics A Research Forum ALM www.alm.online.net New Directions for Situated Cognition in Mathematics Education Anne Watson, Peter Winbourne, 2008-01-03 This book draws together a range of papers by experienced writers in mathematics education who have used the concept of situated cognition in their research within recent years No other books are available which take this view specifically in mathematics education Thus it provides an up to date overview of developments and applications to which other researchers can refer and which will inspire future research Adult Literacy, Numeracy And Language: Policy, Practice And Research Tett, Lyn, Hamilton, Mary, Hillier, Yvonne, 2006-06-01 This book explores the social practice of literacy numeracy and language and its implications for teaching and learning adult basic skills Leading international experts argue that literacy numeracy and language are more than just a set of skills or techniques but are shaped by the social and cultural context within which they are taking place the meanings they have for users and the purposes they serve This shifts the focus from a narrow functional and externally imposed definition of literacy numeracy and language learning to more open and numerous definitions that focus on what people do with their knowledge understanding and skills in a range of contexts Adult Literacy Numeracy and Languageshows how the social practice approach to learning and teaching can be used to develop more inclusive views of adult literacy numeracy and language Bringing together the views of researchers policy makers and practitioners it helps readers to develop an understanding of contemporary policy developments and encourages them to examine their own practice as adult basic education teachers in order to respond more effectively to the needs of their students This book is a valuable resource for practitioners researchers and students on courses in adult and continuing education particularly basic skills postgraduate students and researchers in the field of post compulsory education Adults' Mathematical Thinking and Emotions Jeff Evans,2002-01-04 The crisis around teaching and learning of mathematics and its use in everyday life and work relate to a number of issues These include The doubtful transferability of school maths to real life contexts the declining participation in A level and higher education maths courses the apparent exclusion of some groups such as women and the aversion of many people to maths This book addresses these issues by considering a number of key problems in maths education and numeracy differences among social groups especially those related to gender and social class the inseparability of cognition and emotion in mathematical activity the understanding of maths anxiety in traditional psychological psychoanalytical and feminist theories how adults numerate thinking and performance must be understood in context The author s findings have practical applications in education and training such as clarifying problems of the transfer of learning and of countering maths anxiety Perspectives on Adults Learning Mathematics D. Coben,J. O'Donoghue,Gail E. FitzSimons,2006-05-10 At a time when the importance of lifelong education is becoming recognised around the world this is the first book to explore an important but hitherto neglected area adult mathematics education This book is about adults learning mathematics wherever and in whatever circumstances they do so It brings together researchers in the field and aims to lay the foundations for study and further research and practice in this fast developing area It aims to situate research and practice in adults learning mathematics within the wider field of lifelong learning and lifelong education and to be accessible both to the specialist and to the general adult reader The book features a comprehensive review of the field which sets the scene for sections on Perspectives on Research on Adults Learning Mathematics Adults Mathematics Culture and Society Adults Mathematics and Work and Perspectives in Teaching Adults Mathematics Topics covered include mathematics and common sense statistical literacy and numeracy new theories on learning mathematics mathematical competences for the workplace ethnomathematics and the training of tutors Teaching and Learning Mathematics Marilyn Nickson,2004-09-22 This is a summary of the research in all the major topics of interest and concern to teachers of mathematics from primary elementary to secondary high schools It is directed towards students in service teachers maths advisers and tutors The Troika of Adult Learners, Lifelong Learning, and Mathematics Katherine Safford-Ramus,Pradeep Kumar Misra,Terry Maguire,2016-05-02 This book presents a synopsis of six emerging themes in adult mathematics numeracy and a critical discussion of recent developments in terms of policies provisions and the emerging challenges paradoxes and tensions It also offers an extensive review of the literature adult mathematics education Why do adults want to learn mathematics Did they enjoy mathematics at school so much that they want to continue NO Most of these adults have to learn mathematics because it is part of a formal qualification they need because their job demands the ability to apply mathematics or because they need basic numeracy in their daily lives Lastly the authors discuss five potential strategies to promote lifelong learning of mathematics among adult learners

Financial Numeracy in Mathematics Education Annie Savard, Alexandre Cavalcante, 2021-08-27 This book presents the important role of mathematics in the teaching of financial education Through a conceptualization of financial numeracy as a social practice it focuses on the teaching practices resources and needs of secondary mathematics teachers grades 7 12 to incorporate financial concepts in their classes The editors and authors bring forth a novel perspective regarding mathematics education in the digital era By focusing on financial numeracy a key component of skills required in the digital era they discuss important issues related to the teaching and learning of mathematics and finance In contrary to most research in the field of financial education coming from scholars in areas such as business accounting management and economics this book introduces the contribution of researchers from the field of education to the debate The book appeals to an international audience composed of researchers stakeholders policymakers teachers and teacher educators
