Description

This comprehensive introduction to art and design explores making artifacts as a process of making meaning. "Making Art: Form and Meaning" offers a framework for understanding how all the aspects of an artwork—subject matter, medium, form, process, and contexts—interact. The text's wide array of examples and its emphasis on late-modernism and postmodern art give students a thorough look at the expressive possibilities of traditional design elements and principles and contemporary practices, including the use of computer-based, time-based, and lens-based media.

With artist quotes, clearly defined key terms, and a chapter dedicated to studio critiques, "Making Art" allows students to join the conversation of contemporary art and gives them a jump start in thinking and talking about their work using the language and concepts of today's art world.

Evolving Intermedial Literary Landscape brings together sixteen scholarly contributions that explore literature's ongoing transformation across media cultures and technologies. This anthology traces the dynamic interplay between literature and visual, sonic, performative, and algorithmic forms ranging from illuminated manuscripts and oral traditions to digital texts and anime. Rejecting the notion of literature as a fixed verbal art, the chapters highlight its status as a transmedial, evolving practice shaped by and shaping the environments in which it is situated. Each essay examines how literature migrates across modalities, revealing it as a mutable process of technopoiesis. Together they offer a compelling vision of literature not as an autonomous artefact but as a fluid cultural phenomenon whose conditions of existence are inseparable from intermedial exchange.

Connecting Visual Literacy to Theory Ricardo Lopez-Leon, Dana Statton Thompson, 2024-07-12. This volume seeks to close the gap between education systems across the world that remain systematically devoted to understanding our world through text rather than images. Through an exploration of the contributions of well and lesser known visual thinkers from across disciplines and geographies, the contributors offer contemporary appraisals and modern reconceptualizations of the subject. The book illuminates how experts from various disciplines ranging from art, communication, education, and philosophy laid the foundations for what we know today as visual literacy. These foundations and innovative ways of thinking and understanding images have been disruptive but until now have been relatively understudied. As such, the chapters examine the context of individual thinkers, expanding upon famous theories and providing new insight into why these visual and cognitive processes are imperative to learning and education and to disciplines spanning art history, museum studies, philosophy, photography, and more. The authors, all members of the International Visual Literacy Association (IVLA), are committed to advancing the study of visual literacy by raising new questions and proposing new routes of inquiry. A unique and timely exploration of the way we derive meaning from what we see and how we interact with our visual environment, it will appeal to researchers, scholars, and educators from a range of interdisciplinary backgrounds across art, art education, art history, design, information science, photography, and visual communication.
