The Last American Diplomat George W. Liebmann, 2012-01-27 Can John D Negroponte be described as The Last American Diplomat In a career spanning 50 years of unprecedented American global power he was the last of a dying breed of patrician diplomats devoted to public service a self effacing and ultimate insider whose prime duty was to advise guide and warn a bulwark of traditional diplomatic realism against ideologue excess Negroponte served as US ambassador to Honduras Mexico the Philippines and Iraq he was US Permanent Representative to the UN Director of National Intelligence and Deputy Secretary of State to George W Bush His was a high flying and seemingly conventional career but one full of surprises Negroponte opposed Kissinger in Vietnam supported a proxy war but opposed direct American military action against Marxists in Central America facing bitter Congress opposition in the process He swam against the floodtide of George W Bush's neocon dominated administration warning against the Iraq war as a possible new Vietnam and criticising aspects of Bush's War on Terror He disconcerted the administration by arguing that the re establishment of Iraq would take as long as five years And he was influential in international social and economic policy working for the successful re settlement of millions of refugees in Southeast Asia following the Vietnam War issuing early warnings about the scourge of AIDS in Africa and successfully launching the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA George W Liebmann's incisive account is based on personal and shared experience but it is no hagiography beyond the author's discussions with Negroponte this book is deeply researched in US state papers and includes interviews with leading actors It will provide fascinating reading for anyone interested in the inside story of American diplomacy showing personal and policy struggles and the underlying fissures present even in the world s last remaining superpower      Consensus William Hayes,2013-07-01 As we consider the current status of educational reform it is clear that the United States lacks a clear vision as to how to improve our schools In the recent past we have been able to gain support for ideas such as the need for special education programs free and reduced lunches pre school programs and equal educational opportunities for both boys and girls While programs such as these were possible because of a national consensus our challenge today is to agree on the way to move forward Although it is most obvious in our inability to act on No Child Left Behind the failure to define a common vision is true of many other issues in the field of education Without an agreed upon vision which includes the support of those working in our schools true reform will be extremely difficult The purpose of this book is to help the reader understand our differences and to suggest a way that we can reach a consensus on education reform      Advertising
