Research, Quality, Competitiveness Attilio Stajano, 2008-09-22 The European Union EU was launched as a response to the economic dominance of the United States and to a lesser degree the Soviet Union The nations of Western Europe were too small to compete against large scale and diversified economies on their own Six countries eventually expanding to 27 and counting took a series of steps toward progressively deeper integration the removal of internal tariffs the construction of a common external tariff the elimination of many but not all non tariff barriers leading to a single market and the adoption of a common currency by 15 of the member states The EU today equals and even exceeds the U S on many key indicators of performance In the process two similar but nonetheless divergent models of social and economic life stand in contrast with each other The U S is more committed to capitalism and does little to dilute its harsh edges while the nations of Europe support wider social safety nets and more active regulation of commercial activity to mute the cruel aspects of the free market Until recently the economic dynamism of the U S called into question whether the so called European social model was sustainable in an era of globalization The EU was slipping in competitiveness and was being challenged by new global powerhouses like China and India Although the U S economy has slowed there is little indication that European countries are capable of leveraging the situation to their advantage

European Competitiveness Report European Commission, 2004

OECD Economic Surveys: European Union 2018 OECD, 2018-06-19 After years of crisis the European economy is expanding robustly and GDP growth is projected to remain strong in 2018 and 2019 With an expansion underway attention needs to shift to Europe's long term challenges Wellbeing disparities the UK vote to exit the European Union low potential

Enhancing the Role of SMEs in Global Value Chains OECD, 2008-10-23 This report identifies the ways in which governments the business community and international organisations can facilitate SMEs' gainful participation in global value chains through policies practices and targeted support programmes

Locational Tournaments in the Context of the EU Competitive Environment Stephan Dreyhaupt, 2007-11-03 As part of the research undertaken by the Department of Economics at the European Business School this book explores the role that institutions play in the process of economic competition between jurisdictions for mobile investment These locational tournaments are perpetuated not simply by classical factor endowments of their respective locations but also by government interventions that impact both market imperfections and FDI flows The resulting rivalry between competing institutional arrangements which has been termed institutional competition lies at the very heart of the author's analysis The context for his research is provided by the global forces of trade and foreign direct investment that have expanded the scope for international production due to widespread liberalization of trade and capital flows continuing regional integration rapid technological innovations and the resulting decrease in cross border transaction costs Foreign direct investment has been markedly affected by these developments Countries depend now more heavily on foreign direct investment as a major portion of international capital flows giving even smaller countries a greater potential and determination to compete for FDI As a result not only have attitudes towards FDI dramatically changed over the past decade but so have the scope and intensity of the beauty contests associated with it

Neo-Liberalism, State Power and Global Governance Simon Lee, Stephen McBride, 2007-09-09 This book explores the relationship between neo liberalism state power and global governance exploring national differences in the exercise of state power in a variety of industrialized and developing economies Among the strengths of this volume are its detailed global scope its range of case studies in diverse policy areas its analysis and critique of neo liberalism in theory and practice and its impact upon state power and global governance

Economics and Policies of an Enlarged Europe Carlo Altomonte, Mario Nava, 2006-01-01 Increasingly policies and laws commonly agreed within the EU shape the political and economic scenarios of nation states in Europe However the same European context is radically changing essentially due to three major recent developments the adoption of the Euro EU enlargement to the east and the implementation of the Lisbon Strategy of structural reforms for growth and competitiveness The book presents a thorough economic analysis of these three events and of their implications for both existing and potential EU policies and objectives Carlo Altomonte and Mario Nava have written a very rigorous text in an accessible and jargon free style ensuring easy acquisition of invaluable insights into the European economic set up and the possible evolution of EU policies including an update on the reform of the Growth and Stability Pact and of the 2007 13 Financial Perspectives The accessibility of economic concepts combined with the methodological rigour of this up to date text will be of great interest to both policy makers and students volume on the changing nature of state business relations This book examines how the dynamics of business have influenced public policy in the context of economic liberalization and democratization It identifies the circumstances under which business might support progressive policies in developing countries      Leaderless Europe Jack Hayward, 2008-05-29 From its antecedents in the 1950s successive forms of European integration were intended to be leaderless They have succeeded only too well in demonstrating that much can be achieved without sustained leadership The attachment to national sovereignty of most of the European elites and mass populations has meant that confederalism has been implicitly accepted for the foreseeable future This book attempts to clarify three clusters of issues First as European integration has advanced who has provided the impetus Particular insiders have episodically exerted decisive innovative influence despite the need to conciliate the jealous champions of national sovereignty Three case studies are offered economic and monetary policy environmental policy and technology policy The second part examines why the European Union is currently leaderless The weakened Commission and the increasingly assertive European Council and Council of Ministers have contended for control of agenda setting but it is in the sphere of foreign and security policy that the EU's logic of leaderlessness has been most conspicuous Finally reduced capacity of the Franco German tandem to offer acceptable leadership and British incapacity to join or replace them in providing overall leadership is also discussed      Staying Competitive in the Global Economy

Business, Politics and Public Policy J. Marques, P. Utting, 2010-05-13 This is the second

Compendium of Studies on Global Value Chains OECD, 2008-06-11 This volume is a compilation of the studies that underlie the synthesis report on global value chains entitled Staying Competitive in the Global Economy Moving Up the Value Chain      EU Competitiveness and Industrial Location Tassos Belessiotis, Mattias Levin, 2006 In its May 2005 the Group of Economic Policy Analysis GEPA discussed the issue of EU competitiveness and industrial location At that meeting a request was made for BEPA Bureau of European Policy Advisors to prepare a report i taking stock of the phenomena of delocalisation and outsourcing in particular and globalisation in general ii assessing their impact on the European economy and iii considering how potential challenges can be addressed This report a draft of which was presented to the GEPA in September 2005 is a response to this request The report discusses EU trade patterns reviews factors affecting industrial location decisions reviews relevant evidence on globalisation and relocation and their impact in particular on employment and presents a set of policies aimed at improving the EU's competitiveness and its ability to address challenges emanating from these shocks Notwithstanding the problems of accurately defining and measuring the phenomena data so far suggest that delocalisation and outsourcing appear to be limited in scope However from this low base it is growing in significance and more forward looking firms intend to use it extensively      Europe as Empire Jan Zielonka, 2007-10-11 This book offers a strikingly new perspective on EU enlargement Basing his findings on substantial empirical evidence Zielonka presents a carefully argued account of the kind of political entity the European Union is becoming with particular reference to recent enlargement      Local Economies and Global Competitiveness B. Dallago, C. Guglielmetti, 2010-12-10 The globalized economy depends on local and context specific factors This edited volume addresses local global nexuses via case studies of global interactions in developed and developing areas and of particular firms approaches to these issues The chapters build up a prospectus on how best to create globally capable localities Competitiveness of New Europe Jan Winiecki, 2008-08-08 New Europe is a rhetorical term used by some analysts to describe European post communist transition success stories The term implies their recent return to European or more precisely Western civilization but suggests given their forced communist detour that there is no single Pan European identity in the EU This book examines the na

A New Deal for an Effective European Research Policy Ugur Muldur,Fabienne Corvers,Henri Delanghe,Jim Dratwa,Daniela Heimberger,Brian Sloan,Sandrijn Vanslebrouck,2007-05-06 More than a century ago Louis Pasteur observed that Science knows no country because knowledge belongs to humanity and is the torch which illuminates the world His remark has all the more resonance today with the increasing globalization of science technology and commerce But it also underlines an important truth that science has always advanced most rapidly when it is a collective endeavour with a strong circulation of knowledge When it comes to forging cooperation in research Europe has an impressive track record This year the European Union's Framework Programme for Research and Technological Development celebrates its 20th birthday It is the world's largest programme in support of transnational research promoting cooperation coordination and mobility across borders The year 2007 will see the launch of the 7th Framework Programme the biggest and most ambitious so far This book will show how the new Framework Programme was put together and explain why it took the shape it did It will also set out its potential impacts and the conditions necessary for it to be a success In the challenging new global economy knowledge is Europe's most valuable resource and I am convinced that with its unprecedented scale and scope the 7th Framework Programme is the right strategy for a Europe that wants to progress towards a knowledge based economy However the Framework Programme is only a very modest part of total public R D spending in Europe the bulk of which is carried out by national governments Urbanism Laboratory for Cities and Regions Meta Berghauser Pont,F. van der Hoeven,Jürgen Rosemann,2007 The conditions of urban development changes radically Technological transformations such as automation and robotization in industrial production are leading to operating conditions for businesses and employees Transportation and distribution systems are changing the scale and flow patterns of the urban agglomerations
