Everyday Welfare in Modern British History Caitríona Beaumont, Eve Colpus, Ruth Davidson, 2024-12-17 This open access book offers a new approach to understandings of welfare in modern Britain. Foregrounding the agency individuals and groups claimed through experiential expertise, it traces deep connections between personal experience, welfare and activism across diverse settings in modern Britain. The experiential experts studied in this collection include women, students, children, women who have sex with women, bereaved families, community groups, individuals living in poverty, adults whose status sits outside professional categories, health service users and people of faith. Chapters trace how these groups have used their experiences to assert an expert witness status and have sought out new spaces to expand the scope, inclusivity and applicability of welfare services.

The Medicalization of Everyday Life Thomas Szasz, 2007-10-08 This collection of impassioned essays published between 1973 and 2006 chronicles Thomas Szasz's long campaign against the orthodoxies of pharmacracy, that is the alliance of medicine and the state. From Diagnoses Are Not Diseases to The Existential Identity Thief, Fatal Temptation and Killing as Therapy, the book delves into the complex evolution of medicalization, concluding with Pharmacracy: The New Despotism. In practice, society must draw a line between what counts as medical practice and what does not. Where it draws that line goes far in defining the kinds of laws its citizens live under, the kinds of medical care they receive and the kinds of lives they are allowed to live.

Everyday Zionism in East-Central Europe Jan Rybak, 2021-08-05 Everyday Zionism examines Zionist activism in East-Central Europe during the years of war, occupation, revolution, the collapse of empires and the formation of nation-states in the years 1914 to 1920. Against the backdrop of the Great War, its brutal aftermath and consequent violence, the day-to-day encounters between Zionist activists and the Jewish communities in the region gave the movement credibility, allowed it to win support and to establish itself as a leading force in Jewish political and social life for decades to come. Through activists' efforts, Zionism came to mean something new. Rather than being concerned with debates over Jewish nationhood and pioneering efforts in Palestine, it came to be about aiding starving populations, organizing soup kitchens, establishing orphanages, schools, kindergartens and hospitals, negotiating with the authorities and leading self-defence against pogroms. Through this engagement, Zionism evolved into a mass movement that attracted and inspired tens of thousands of Jews throughout the region. Everyday Zionism approaches the major European events of the period from the dual perspectives of Jewish communities and the Zionist activists on the ground, demonstrating how war, revolution, empire and nation held very different meanings for people depending on their local circumstances. Based on extensive archival research, the study shows how during the war and its aftermath, East-Central Europe saw a large-scale nation-building project by Zionist activists who fought for and led their communities to shape for them a national future.

The Hauntology of Everyday Life Sadeq Rahimi, 2021-08-18 This volume develops a comprehensive framework for applying the theory of hauntology to everyday life from ethnographic and clinical points of view. The central argument of the book is that all human experience is fundamentally haunted and that a shift from ontological theory of subjective experience to a hauntological one is necessary and has urgent implications Building on the notion of hauntology outlined by Derrida the discussions are developed within the frameworks of psychoanalytic theory specifically Jacques Lacan's object relational theory of ego development and his structural reading of Freud's theory of the psychic apparatus and its dynamics along with the Hegelian ontology of the negative and its later modifications by 20th century philosophers such as Heidegger and Derrida and the semiotics of difference introduced by Saussure and worked by Jakobson and others This book argues and demonstrates the immediate relevance of hauntological analysis in everyday life by providing a microanalysis of the roles played by power meaning and desire and by using vignettes and data from ethnographic research and clinical settings as well as references to literature movies and other cultural products

Technocrime Stéphane Leman-Langlois, 2013-05-13 This book is concerned with the concept of technocrime The term encompasses crimes committed on or with computers the standard definition of cybercrime but it goes well beyond this to convey the idea that technology enables an entirely new way of committing combating and thinking about criminality criminals police courts victims and citizens Technology offers for example not only new ways of combating crime but also new ways to look for unveil and label crimes and new ways to know watch prosecute and punish criminals Technocrime differs from books concerned more narrowly with cybercrime in taking an approach and understanding of the scope of technology's impact on crime and crime control It uncovers mechanisms by which behaviours become crimes or cease to be called crimes It identifies a number of corporate government and individual actors who are instrumental in this construction And it looks at the beneficiaries of increased surveillance control and protection as well as the targets of it Chapters in the book cover specific technologies e.g. the use of CCTV in various settings computers hackers and security experts photo radar but have a wider objective to provide a comparative perspective and some broader theoretical foundations for thinking about crime and technology than have existed hitherto This is a pioneering book which advances our understanding of the relationship between crime and technology drawing upon the disciplines of criminology political science sociology psychology anthropology surveillance studies and cultural studies

Francis an informa company Care-Giving In Dementia Gemma Jones, Bere Miesen, 2021-12-17 Care giving in dementia is a new speciality with its own rapidly growing body of knowledge This second volume of contributions from leading practitioners and researchers around the world is a handbook for all those involved in hands on caring or in planning care for persons with dementia Volume 2 of Care Giving in Dementia provides a rich source of information on most recent thinking about individualized long term care of both dementia sufferers and their families Key themes in Volume 2 are the subjective experience of dementia the provision of care for family carers differing cultural perspectives of dementia the crucial importance of life history information for understanding a person's reaction to their illness Chapters on the search for an ethical framework and the best environment within which to provide care are particularly timely Ethics and Images of Pain Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting theatre and sculpture to photography film and video this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect the moral transformation of spectatorship the ambivalence of the witness and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopic experience The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images one that accentuates notions of responsibility empathy and imagination Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo Anselm Kiefer and Bendik Riis photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda Hollywood war films and animated documentaries performances of self immolations and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones

Insult and the Making of the Gay Self Didier Eribon, 2004-07-07 Published in English for the first time Didier Eribon's well received and celebrated work on a philosophy of and examination of gay life

Monomania Marina Van Zuylen, 2018-05-31 This book is about the obsessive strategies people use to keep the arbitrary out of their lives it is about the fanaticism and intolerance linked to their ideas of perfection and permanence Those readers who have brushed against the dangers of the id e fixe who have come close to surrendering to something or someone diabolically seductive or coercive will recognize in these characters their own encounter with a dangerously systematized world From the introduction Monomania explores the cultural prominence of the id e fixe in Western Europe during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Marina van Zuylen revives the term monomania to explore the therapeutic attributes of obsession She introduces us to artists and collectors voyeurs and scholars hypochondriacs and melancholics whose lives are run by debilitating compulsions that may become powerful weapons against the tyranny of everyday life In van Zuylen's view there is a productive tension between disabling fixations and their curative powers she argues that the id e fixe has acted as a corrective for the multiple disorders of modernity The authors she studies Charles Baudelaire Sophie Calle Elias Canetti George Eliot Gustave Flaubert and Thomas Mann among them embody or set in motion different manifestations of this monomaniacal imperative Their protagonists or alter egos live more intensely more meaningfully because of the compulsive pressures they set up for themselves Monomania shows that transforming life into art or at least into the artful drives out the anxiety of the void and puts in its place something so orderly and meaningful that it can take on the aura of a religion      Domination and Power Peter Miller, 2019-11-21 First published in 1987 Our understanding of the nature of power in western societies is currently undergoing a major reassessment The significance of this reassessment emerges forcefully through comparing the writings of the principal exponents of Critical Theory Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas with those of Michel Foucault Peter Miller suggests that these two traditions embody fundamentally distinct philosophical and sociological principles He grounds his analysis in the concepts of domination Critical Theory and power Foucault Miller identifies the notion of subjectivity as central to a differentiation of the respective approaches of Critical Theory and Foucault For Critical Theory it is the repression of subjectivity which provides the evidence of domination and the rationale for its critique while for Foucault subjectivity in western societies is fabricated through power and linked to the deployment of specific knowledges Miller shows that despite the achievements of Critical Theory in bringing to light the repressive nature of advanced industrial societies its thinking is inadequate as a basis for future analysis and critique He argues that Foucault's genealogy of the modern subject which highlights the role of the human sciences in its fabrication is a more fruitful basis for charting and investigating the mode of operation of contemporary forms of power The book includes a survey of all published works by Foucault up to the time of his death in 1984 and commentaries on the writings of Max Horkheimer Herbert Marcuse and Jürgen Habermas

Hermeneutics, Social Criticism and Everyday Education Practice Wiktor Żłobicki, Monika Humeniuk, Grażyna Lubowicka, Iwona Paszenda, Beata Pietkiewicz-Pareek, 2020-06-03 The individual chapters written by scholars of the Department of General Pedagogy at the University of Wrocław included in the volume offered to the Readers showcase selected variants and problems of the hermeneutical and critical approaches to educational practice and research The general pedagogy we practice in this way reveals its interdisciplinary character drawing on the resources and achievements of philosophy sociology psychology cultural anthropology religious studies and political sciences By deliberately adopting such an approach general pedagogy becomes the basic science of pedagogy one of its major tasks is the integration and criticism of knowledge about education and the study of education and its broadly understood contexts a knowledge which is produced not only in numerous disciplines of humanities and social sciences This ambitious task undertaken by many theoreticians and researchers of education all over the world calls for a continuous effort to review the resources of dynamically changing and transforming scientific knowledge and to draw on contemporary and historically significant philosophy Translating these experiences into the resources of general pedagogy requires from us the effort of understanding the languages of contemporary humanities social sciences and multicultural societies as well as the effort of critical thinking which can recognize and take into account the entanglement of scientific knowledge in social ideas and practices its conflicts inequalities and asymmetric discourses Hence the general pedagogy we practice exploring the area of ideology religion and utopias present in everyday educational practice implements the vision of bringing closer these two approaches hermeneutical and critical We believe that such a general pedagogy engaged practiced with passion aware of its present social context and its past and of the urgent needs theoretical and practical difficulties a pedagogy that explores the possible shapes of the future is both necessary and inspiring It addresses new topics and offers novel approaches revises well established and newly proposed findings is aware of opportunities and threats Nevertheless the chapters written by us are integral self contained wholes just as their authors retain their intellectual and research autonomy which can be seen in the issues we choose the mode of their presentation and addressing

Responding to Men in Crisis Brian Taylor,2006 This book is based on new work relating gendered assumptions about rationality to men s mental health It offers the reader a theoretical exploration of a topically and politically sensitive issue and provides a valuable critique of postmodern theory and theorists It is relevant to practitioners and activists in the mental health field will be of interest to profeminist theorists and is essential reading for academics and students of sociology and allied disciplines Jacket Virginia Woolf Lorraine

Sim,2016-02-11 In her timely contribution to revisionist approaches in modernist studies Lorraine Sim offers a reading of Virginia Woolf s conception of ordinary experience as revealed in her fiction and nonfiction Contending that Woolf s representations of everyday life both acknowledge and provide a challenge to characterizations of daily life as mundane Sim shows how Woolf explores the potential of everyday experience as a site of personal meaning social understanding and ethical value Sim s argument develops through readings of Woolf s literary representations of a subject s engagement with ordinary things like a mark on the wall a table or colour Woolf s accounts of experiences that are both common and extraordinary such as physical pain or epiphanic moments of being and Woolf s analysis of the effect of new technologies for example motor cars and the cinema on contemporary understandings of the external world Throughout Sim places Woolf s views in the context of the philosophical and lay accounts of ordinary experience that dominated the cultural thought of her time These include British Empiricism Romanticism Platonic thought and Post Impressionism In addition to drawing on the major novels particularly The Voyage Out Mrs Dalloway and To the Lighthouse Sim focuses close attention on short stories such as The Mark on the Wall Solid Objects and Blue nonfiction works including On Being Ill Evening over Sussex Reflections in a Motor car and A Sketch of the Past and Woolf s diaries Sim concludes with an account of Woolf s ontology of the ordinary which illuminates the role of the everyday in Woolf s ethics
