

From bushcrafting comes an amazingly versatile substance. Mud may seem earthy and valueless, maybe even undesirable, but this is all just a matter of perspective. This squishy form of dirt can become many different things in the hands of a creative outdoorser. Here are nine ways that mud can help you in a survival scenario.

1 MAKE CHIMPOOL If you need minor charcoal for a simple fire or water filter, you can help! Build a cone out of twigs and kindling, surround it with chunks of hard firewood, and then build a mound of mud over the woodpile. Light a hole in the mud at the top of the pile and end at the bottom. Light up your tinder at the bottom and let the fire catch fully. Plug the two hole openings with more mud once the fire is burning well, and the charcoal will smolder slowly over the next 24 hours. Break it open when it's cool and harvest your charcoal.

2 BAKE FOOD Mud can make a surprisingly effective cooking wrap for many foods. Wrap an apple in clay, slice and bake it in a hot place for 1 hour to make sweet baked apple treat. Pick up a ground fish and bake it in the mud with the fish in place, moist, and perfect.

3 MAKE AN OVEN Pick a mountain of mud over a bundle of sticks, leaving a hole for a chimney and a door. Allow this mound to dry for a week or two, light the sticks on fire, and you have a brand-new clay oven.

4 SET A CAST Use alternating layers of mud, fabric, and sticks to create a temporary cast for an injured limb. Start by padding the limb heavily for comfort with this heavy mud. Encircle the padding with short sticks, making sure that some of the sticks are poking your patient. Start applying mud and strips of fabric. Don't be stingy with the fabric strips; this really holds the mud together and adds strength to the dried cast. Allow the cast to fully and keep it dry. Then let the cast do its job of stabilizing the injury.

5 LOSE YOUR SCENT Hopping around is a subtle art, and scent plays a big role in your success. Remove the human scent from your hands (and even from trap pots) by wiping them with mud.

6 CRAFT CERAMICS Mud with a high-iron content can be shaped into an almost limitless array of ceramic items. Mix together one part crushed stone and two parts clay; then work the material until well blended. Make a clay pot for shaping the tempered clay and then letting it dry before firing in a campfire.

7 SHAPE A BOWL The technique of good burning slowly using hot coals to bake out a hardwood bowl is very effective, but sometimes it sets away too much of your raw material. Shaping mud on the wheel when wood burning creates a fireproof barrier to prevent "char burning" your project.

8 MAKE MORTAR Mud is useful some stones to make a mortar or even build a rock wall? Mix together mud and dried grass or other fibrous material to create a sturdy mortar. And with this, I'm sitting over a century-old wall that will contain remnants of mud and horsehair together.

9 CAMOUFLAGE YOURSELF Nothing compares to mud for natural camouflage. You can mud all over your exposed skin, clothing, gear, and anything else you need to conceal. Fat hides debris, dust, or vegetation into the mud for even better results. For the fastest application, wade in the mud and then roll down the dry ground. You'll be dry, but you'll end up matching your surroundings perfectly!

229 WATERPROOF YOUR BASKET

In a primitive survival setting with no tools to help you, one of the hardest things to acquire can be a waterproof container. Thankfully, a few big handfuls of mud and some sturdy basket reeds can give you a temporary solution. Weave a tight basket any size you like, and line it with a smooth thick layer of clay-rich mud. This muddy basket will keep water immediately though it will cause the water to become very muddy. And if mud-colored water isn't your thing, there are two ways to get around it. For immediate help, stick straw that sticks in the mud inside the basket. Cut them right. And a digger people, and this will harden the amount of mud that can come over water. Option two is to let the mud basket dry completely in few days in sun, wind. Once dry, fill it with reeds and light them on fire. This will harden the surface of the clay and the basket will offer a solid waterproofing.
