The EU Charter of Fundamental Rights in the Member States Michal Bobek, Jeremias Adams-Prassl, 2020-12-24 Ten years after the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union became part of binding primary law and twenty years since its adoption, this volume assesses the application of the EU Charter in the Member States. How often and in particular by which actors is the EU Charter invoked at the national level? In what type of situations is it used? Has the approach of national courts in general and of constitutional courts in particular to EU law to EU fundamental rights law changed following the entry into force of the Charter? What sort of interplay does the Charter generate with the national bill of rights and the European Convention? Is the life with the Charter on the national level a harmonious praktische Konkordanz or rather a messy mange trois? These and other questions are discussed in the four parts that form the book. Part I is dedicated to the normative foundations. Part II sets out Member States' Perspectives providing a structured in-depth account of the Charter's operation in 16 different Member States. Part III provides a detailed evaluation of selected rights contained within the Charter. Part IV synthesises the materials presented up to that point to develop a series of broader perspectives looking to discover underlying lessons about the relationship between EU fundamental rights law and national legal systems.

Theorizing Teaching and Learning in Asia and Europe John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2017-03-27 There has been much debate in recent times between the Anglo-American tradition of curriculum studies and the Continental and North European tradition of didactics. Didaktik. As important as such debate has been, this book seeks to add new voices to the debate representing ideas and traditions from a different part of the world. The focus is on Chinese curriculum thinking that has passed through a number of stages and currently represents a blend of some aspects of the American tradition and Chinese cultural traditions. How does Chinese thinking about curriculum teaching and learning resonate with European didactic traditions and what are the implications for theorizing an expanded field of curriculum studies? This book deliberately transcends borders and cultures to explore new territory to provide a platform for open dialogue and to open up new areas of investigation. Chapters include Curriculum Reform and Research in China, A Social Historical Perspective, What Mathematics Did Teachers Learn, Comparison of the School and the Pre-Service Teacher

Contemporary Issues in Cultural Heritage Tourism Jamie Kaminski, Angela M Benson, David Arnold, 2013-12-13 The perceived quality of a destination's cultural offering has long been a significant factor in determining tourist choices of destination. More recently the need to present touristic offerings that include cultural experiences and heritage has become widely recognised that this aspect of the tourism experience is an important differentiator of destinations as well as being amongst the most manageable. This has also led to an increase in the management of such experiences through special exhibitions, events and festivals as well as through ensuring more routine and controlled access to heritage sites. Reflecting the increasing application of cultural heritage as a driver for tourism and development, this book provides for the first time a cohesive volume on the subject that is theoretically rich, practically applied and empirically grounded. Written by expert scholars and practitioners in the field, the book covers a broad range of theoretical perspectives of cultural heritage, tourism, regeneration, policy, stakeholders, marketing, socio-economic development, impacts, sustainability, volunteering and ICT. It takes a broad view integrating international examples of sites, monuments as well as intangible cultural heritage, motor vehicle heritage, events and modern art museums. This significant book furthers knowledge of the theory and application of tourism within the context of cultural heritage and will be of interest to students, researchers and practitioners in a range of disciplines.

Law and Religious Cultural Heritage in Europe Theodosios Tsvolas, 2014-07-22 This book examines in detail both historical and current legal concepts of religious cultural heritage within the context of the European continent. The latter group is primarily based on the variety of sacred cultural elements emanating from the different religious traditions of the peoples of Europe which are deemed worthy of protection and preservation due to their outstanding value in terms of their social, cultural and religious significance. In view of this, the study provides evidence of the European States' active involvement with their sacred cultural treasures on the basis of the political and legal foundations of neutrality and pluralism. Furthermore, the book analyzes all relevant international legislative instruments, i.e. the plethora of EU, EC and UNESCO norms as well as all major European legislative patterns in light of their significance for the aforementioned aspects of pluralism and neutrality. The interdisciplinary references listed at the end of each chapter provide an additional incentive for further reading on the subject matter. The most important finding to emerge from the study is that there is a shared legal ethos in Europe that imposes a duty of appropriate care concerning the vast variety of sacred cultural goods and the religious cultural heritage in general as an invaluable repository of European cultural capital. It also considers the sui generis nature of this capital: like any other type of asset, it may deteriorate or fade over time, necessitating investment in its preservation or refurbishment; nevertheless, like no other, this particular capital maintains a distinct cultural value as it contains an additional characteristic of sacredness expressed in the form of its religious character, the latter being analyzed as a triptych of religious memory, religious aesthetics and religious beliefs.
