Carnes, 2014-09-15 A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year In Minds on Fire Mark C Carnes shows how role immersion games channel students competitive and sometimes mischievous impulses into transformative learning experiences His discussion is based on interviews with scores of students and faculty who have used a pedagogy called Reacting to the Past which features month long games set during the French Revolution Galileo's trial the partition of India and dozens of other epochal moments in disciplines ranging from art history to the sciences These games have spread to over three hundred campuses around the world where many of their benefits defy expectations Minds on Fire is Carnes s beautifully written apologia for this fascinating and powerful approach to teaching and learning in higher education If we are willing to open our minds and explore student centered approaches like Reacting to the Past we might just find that the spark of student engagement we have been searching for in higher education s mythical past can catch fire in the classrooms of the present James M Lang Chronicle of Higher Education This book is a highly engaging and inspirational study of a new technique that just might change the way educators bring students to learning in the 21st century D D Bouchard Choice The Idea of a Christian College Todd C. Ream, Perry L. Glanzer, 2013-10-28 In 1975 Arthur F Holmes published The Idea of a Christian College At the time he could not have imagined his book would gather such a large following This work s thoughtful yet accessible style made it a long standing choice for reading lists on Christian college and university campuses across the country and around the world Countless numbers of first year students have read and discussed his book as part of their introduction to the Christian college experience However enough has changed since 1975 in both the Church and Academy to now merit a full scale reexamination In this book Todd C Ream and Perry L Glanzer account for changes in how people view the Church and themselves as human agents and propose a vision for the Christian college in light of the fact that so many Christian colleges now look and act more like research universities Including topics such as the co curricular common worship and diversity Ream and Glanzer craft a vision that strives to see into the future by drawing on the riches of the past First year students as well as new faculty members and administrators will benefit from the insights in this book in ways previous generations benefitted from Arthur Holmes s efforts The Education of English Language Learners Marilyn Shatz, Louise C. Wilkinson, 2011-08-01 This book presents evidence based strategies for supporting English language learners ELLs school readiness and achievement at all grade levels It examines the importance of communication and language use for children s learning both in and outside of school Critical Approaches to American Working-Class Literature Michelle Tokarczyk, 2012-03-29 This book is one of the first collections on a neglected field in American literature that written by and about the working class Examining literature from the 1850s to the present contributors use a wide variety of critical approaches expanding readers understanding of the critical lenses that can be applied to working class literature Drawing upon theories of media studies postcolonial studies cultural geography and masculinity studies the essays consider slave narratives contemporary poetry and fiction Depression era newspaper plays and ethnic American literature Depicting the ways that working class writers render the lives the volume explores the question of what difference class makes and how it intersects with gender race ethnicity and geographical location Premarital Sex in America Mark Regnerus, Jeremy Uecker, 2011-01-10 The period of young adulthood from ages 18 to 23 is popularly considered the most sexualized in life But is it true What do we really know about the sexual lives of young people today Premarital Sex in America combines illuminating personal stories and comprehensive research surveys to provide the fullest portrait of heterosexuality among young adults ever produced Mark Regnerus and Jeremy Uecker draw upon a wealth of survey data as well as scores of in depth interviews with young adults from around the country both in and out of college Digging underneath stereotypes and unexamined assumptions the authors offer compelling and often surprising answers to such questions as How do the emotional aspects of sexual relations differ between young men and women What role do political orientations play in their sexual relations How have online dating and social networking sites affected the relationships of emerging adults Why are young people today waiting so much longer to marry How prevalent are nontraditional forms of sex and what do people think of them To better understand what drives the sexual behaviors of emerging adults Regnerus and Uecker pay special attention to two important concepts sexual scripts the unwritten and often unconscious rules that guide sexual behavior and attitudes and sexual economics a theory which suggests that the relative scarcity of men on college campuses contributes to the hookup culture by allowing men to diminish their level of commitment and thereby lower the price they have to pay for sex For anyone wishing to understand how sexual relations between young adults have changed and are changing Premarital Sex in America will serve as a touchstone for years to come The Church and the Surprising Offense of God's Love (Foreword by Mark Dever) Jonathan Leeman, 2010-01-08 When the world speaks of love it often means unconditional acceptance Many churches have adopted this mind set in their practice of membership and discipline if they have not done away with such structures entirely Yet God's love and God's gospel are different than what the world expects writes Jonathan Leeman They re centered in his character which draws a clear boundary between what is holy and what is not It s this line that the local church should represent in its member practices because the careful exercise of such authority is God's means for guarding the gospel marking off a people and thereby defining his love for the world So how should churches receive and dismiss members How should Christians view their submission to the church Are there dangers in such submission The Church and the Surprising Offense of God's Love responds with biblical theological and practical guidance from both corporate and individual perspectives It s a resource that will help pastors and their congregations upend worldly conceptions and recover a biblical understanding and practice of church authority A Report from the Front Lines Michael Shahan, 2009 In tribute to the ongoing influence of Robert Benne director of the Center for Religion and Society at Roanoke College fourteen of his friends and colleagues have produced A Report from the Front Lines in which they consider the role of theology in the public arena at this turn of the twenty first century They speak powerfully to the cultural paralysis of the Western world where educated leaders claim that morality must not interfere with science or public policy by showing the relevance of orthodox Christianity to humanity s most pressing problems The constant theme weaving through the volume is Benne s own conviction that Christians can and must engage in the public square with positions forged out of their religious commitments using arguments whose presuppositions allow room for special revelation but whose resultant logic is translated into a shared universal rationality Book Jacket Christianity and Moral Identity in Higher Education P. Glanzer, T. Ream, 2009-11-23 This book offers examples from both Christian and secular democratic institutions of higher education and then responds to possible criticisms about how moral education in a comprehensive humanist moral tradition may short change diversity autonomy and critical thinking The Encyclopedia of Contemporary American Fiction, 2 Volumes Patrick O'Donnell, Stephen J.
