Through a series of case studies this book explores the interrelations among Greek tragedy theatre practices and education in the United Kingdom This is situated within what the volume proposes as the Classics ecology The term ecology frequently used in Theatre Studies understands Classics as a field of cultural production dependent on shared knowledge circulated via formal and informal networks which operate on the basis of mutually beneficial exchange Productions of Greek tragedy may be influenced by members of the team studying Classics subjects at school or university or reading popular works of Classical scholarship or else by working with an academic consultant All of these have some degree of connection to academic Classics albeit filtered through different lenses creating a network of mutual influence and benefit the ecology In this way theatrical productions of Greek drama may in the long term influence Classics as an academic discipline and certainly contribute to attesting to the relevance of Classics in the modern world The chapters in this volume include contributions by both theatre makers and academics whose backgrounds vary between Theatre Studies and Classics They comprise a variety of case studies and approaches exploring the dissemination of knowledge about the ancient world through projects that engage with Greek tragedy theories and practices of theatre making through the chorus and practical relationships between scholars and theatre makers By understanding the staging of Greek tragedy in the United Kingdom today as being part of the Classics ecology the book examines practices and processes as key areas in which the value of engaging with the ancient past is re negotiated This book is primarily suitable for students and scholars working in Classical Reception and Theatre Studies who are interested in the reception history of Greek tragedy and the intersection of the two fields It is also of use to more general Classics and Theatre Studies audiences especially those engaged with current debates around saving Classics and those interested in a structural systemic approach to the intersection between theatre culture and class

Stephen J. O'Brien, 2015-10-27 The history of life on Earth is dominated by extinction events so numerous that over 99.9% of the species ever to have existed are gone forever If animals could talk we would ask them to recall their own ancestries in particular the secrets as to how they avoided almost inevitable annihilation in the face of daily assaults by predators climatic cataclysms deadly infections and innate diseases In Tears of the Cheetah medical geneticist and conservationist Stephen J. O'Brien narrates fast moving science adventure stories that explore the mysteries of survival among the earth's most endangered and beloved wildlife Here we uncover the secret histories of exotic species such as Indonesian orangutans humpback whales and the imperiled cheetah the world's fastest animal which nonetheless cannot escape its own genetic weaknesses Among these genetic detective stories we also discover how the Serengeti lions have lived with FIV the feline version of HIV where giant pandas really come from how bold genetic action pulled the Florida panther from the edge of extinction how the survivors of the medieval Black Death passed on a genetic gift to their descendents and how mapping the genome of the domestic cat solved a murder case in Canada With each riveting account of animal resilience and adaptation a remarkable parallel in human medicine is drawn adding yet another rationale for species conservation mining their genomes for cures to our own fatal diseases Tears of the Cheetah offers a fascinating glimpse of the insight gained when geneticists venture into the wild Creation and Ecology

Ronald A. Simkins, 2020-12-24 In this book Ronald A. Simkins addresses the current environmental crisis and what the Bible might contribute in response to it The environmental crisis includes loss of biodiversity degradation of the soil and especially climate change If left unchecked these trends will bring about the collapse of human civilization These environmental problems are interrelated and share a similar cause the exploitation of the natural world through an economy structured by capitalist relations of production and powered by the burning of fossil fuels Through our economic relations we have depleted natural resources polluted natural environments and altered natural processes These problems are a product of our political economy which entails not only our politics ideology and religion but primarily our economic system Because the crisis is economic at its core Simkins first sets the Bible within its own economic context exploring how the biblical ideas of creation an understanding of the human relationship to the natural world were the product of the ancient Israelite political economy Then Simkins places the biblical tradition in conversation with the current environmental crisis The result is a far richer view of creation in the biblical tradition and a better understanding of what is at stake in the current environmental crisis Sex, Ecology, Spirituality and materialistic values This signifies immeasurable love not only among humans but also with nature Thus absolute love substitutes greed Non possession from an absolute love revolutionises the socio ecological paradigm of human civilisation Various ecological scientists and economists have asserted the need for revisiting the harmony between human activities and nature Stern et al 1998 concluded that economic growth would never result in improvement in environmental quality Arrow et al 1995 concluded that economic growth is not a panacea for environmental quality Meadows et al 1972 in his book The Limits to Growth claimed that environmental limits would cause the collapse of the world economic system Against this backdrop Gandhi advocated the process of recycling and minimising waste so that humans adopt a lifestyle that integrates with the ecosystem Humans must dwell in a life that converges with the law of nature and maintains ecological harmony This notion of continuity of life is inspired by the Gandhian philosophy of non violence and absolute love The moment there is a break in continuity it results in violence leading to unrest or conflict dismantling the process of continuity
