Africa: Still Rising? Giovanni Carbone, 2015-10-30 After decades of unsatisfying performances economic growth took off in many sub Saharan states at the beginning of the 21st century More recently however the end of the commodity cycle particularly with the oil price drop and the rise of jihadist violence rocked the Emerging Africa boat Is this the beginning of the end for sustained growth in the region This Report investigates the economic impact of these new challenges upon Africa s frontier markets It shows that the positive economic trajectory of recent years is being negatively affected particularly for oil exporting countries However while more caution is needed Africa s growth prospects on the whole remain fairly good at least for now But there is an increasing need to understand the specific risks that individual countries face and the opportunities that they offer as well as to re assess the potential of each specific sector of economic activity The three largest economies in the region Nigeria South Africa and Angola are all under pressure Others including Ethiopia Mozambique and Kenya are still projected to achieve remarkable growth rates
