Patricia Ruggiano Schmidt, Althier M. Lazar, 2019-09-06 This accessible book features K 12 teachers and teacher educators who report their experiences of culturally responsive literacy teaching in primarily high poverty culturally nondominant communities. These extraordinary teachers show us what culturally responsive literacy teaching looks like in their classrooms and how it advances children's academic achievement. This collection captures different dimensions of culturally responsive CR practice such as linking home and school using culturally responsive literature, establishing relationships with children and parents using cultural connections, and teaching English language learners and children who speak African American language. This engaging collection provides a window into what teachers actually do and think when they serve culturally diverse children, including classroom-tested teaching practices. Depicts teachers enacting CR teaching in the presence of scripted curricula and rigid testing schedules. Covers childhood, secondary, and higher education classrooms. Helps readers imagine how they can transform their own classrooms through 'Make This Happen in Your Classroom' sections at the end of each chapter. Includes a 'Becoming a Culturally Responsive Teacher' self-evaluation form. A thoroughly contextualized description and understanding of culturally responsive teaching. It will become a classic. From the Preface by Lee Gunderson, University of British Columbia. The teachers profiled in this book keep the conversation alive and move us toward more just educational settings. From the Foreword by Patricia A. Edwards, Michigan State University. Articles and Excerpts, Volume 1 AoPS Incorporated, 2006.
