2. Relative Fluorescence was the first when Eadie-Hofstee method effect is being they are used. Relationship was shown, also confirmed Eadie-Hofstee plot and linear regression.

Various theories to explain why men primarily, as studies find, are the substance users and most violent offenders have been put forward.

- For great effectiveness, the strategy is getting on as close the front with other people as you can without being uncomfortable.

Key Message: The results of this study suggest that the use of a single, standardized, and validated instrument to assess the impact of a program on the community is a more effective way to measure the impact of a program than using multiple, non-standardized, and non-validated instruments.
