Explorers Of The New Century:

The New Century History of the United States Edward Eggleston, 1904 Explorers Gardner Dozois, 2000-04-08 Distant planets galaxies alien races the universe is vast and filled with an almost unimaginable range of possibilities But imagine it we can Here are more than twenty stories from the most inventive writers in the field including Poul Anderson Stephen Baxter Greg Bear Gregory Benford Arthur C Clarke Hal Clement Greg Egan H B Fyfe R A Lafferty Geoffrey A Landis Ursula K Le Guin Jack McDevitt Larry Niven G David Nordley Edgar Pangborn Kim Stanley Robinson James H Schmitz Cordwainer Smith Michael Swanwick James Tiptree Jr John Varley Vernor Vinge These are the stories of discovering those possibilities the stories of the explorers and pioneers who push the envelope further out exciting tales of alien landscapes and adventures on far distant shores that are the heart and soul of science fiction New Century Path ,1902 Beyond Cognitive Metaphor Theory Monika Fludernik, 2012-03-29 In this innovative collection an international group of scholars come together to discuss literary metaphors and cognitive metaphor theory The volume presents recent approaches to metaphor illustrates a range of successful applications of the new cognitive models to literary texts and provides an assessment of cognitive metaphor theory from a literary point of view Explorers Jon Balchin, 2013-11-11 Fascinated by what lies beyond the boundaries of human experience men and women have throughout history been irresistibly drawn to venture into the unknown Explorers charts the astonishing feats of history's most intrepid pathfinders From the early voyages of the Ancient Greek mariner Colaeus who first discovered that beyond the Mediterranean lay a far greater ocean to the compelling tale of the race for the poles this book encompasses the discovery and exploration of the great continents and oceans of the world Whether motivated by the prospect of conquest the spirit of scientific inquiry nationalism fanaticism or just plain curiosity the explorers in this book dared to seek out the most remote and inhospitable places on Earth and in so doing changed forever our perception of the planet The Forensic Records Society Magnus Mills, 2017-04-06 The Forensic Records Society is like Animal Farm but with blokes for pigs and much better songs Guardian Two men with a passion for vinyl create a society for the appreciation of records Their aim is simple to elevate the art of listening by doing so in forensic detail The society enjoys moderate success in the back room of their local pub The Half Moon with other enthusiasts drawn to the initial promise of the weekly gathering However as the club gains popularity its founder's uncompromising dogma results in a schism within the movement and soon a counter group forms Then the arrival of a young woman called Alice further fractures the unity of the vulnerable society As rifts are forged and gulfs widen Magnus Mills examines the surreal nature of ordinary lives The master of the comic deadpan returns for his ninth novel a spectacularly disingenuous exploration of power fanaticism and really really good records Explorers of the New Century Magnus Mills, 2011-09-05 The brilliant satirical novel by the Booker Prize shortlisted author of The Restraint of Beasts To write one unique book is a rare achievement The ability to produce several is truly special Independent A demented deadpan comic wonder Thomas Pynchon It is the beginning of the century and two teams of explorers are racing across a cold windswept deserted land to reach the furthest point from civilisation. It is they find an awfully long way. Johns and his men take the western route along a rocky scree gossiping bickering and grumbling as they go. Meanwhile Tostig's men make their way along the dry riverbed in the east. They are fewer with just five men and ten mules and better organised than their rivals. But with Johns' team keeping apace in the distance the race is on to reach the Agreed Furthest Point. American History and Government James Albert Woodburn, Thomas Francis Moran, 1906

How Literary Worlds Are Shaped Bo Pettersson, 2016-09-12 Literary studies still lack an extensive comparative analysis of different kinds of literature including ancient and non-Western. How Literary Worlds Are Shaped: A Comparative Poetics of Literary Imagination aims to provide such a study. Literature it claims is based on individual and shared human imagination which creates literary worlds that blend the real and the fantastic. Mimesis and genre often modulated by different kinds of unreliability. The main building blocks of literary worlds are their oral, visual and written modes and three themes challenge perception and relation. They are blended and inflected in different ways by combinations of narratives and figures, indirection, thwarted aspirations, meta-usages, hypothetical action as well as hierarchies and blends of genres and text types. Moreover, literary worlds are not only constructed by humans but also shape their lives and reinforce their sense of wonder. Finally, ten reasons are given in order to show how this comparative view can be of use in literary studies. In sum, How Literary Worlds Are Shaped is the first study to present a wide-ranging and detailed comparative account of the makings of literary worlds. Cartographic Expeditions and Visual Culture in the Nineteenth-Century Americas Ernesto Capello, Julia B. Rosenbaum, 2020-11-16 During the nineteenth century, gridding, graphing and surveying proliferated as never before as nations and empires expanded into hitherto unknown territories. Though nominally geared toward justifying territorial claims and collecting scientific data, expeditions also produced vast troves of visual and artistic material. This book considers the explosion of expeditionary mapping and its links to visual culture across the Americas, arguing that acts of measurement are also aesthetic acts. Such visual interventions intersect with new technologies with sociopolitical power and conflict and with shifting public tastes and consumption practices. Several key questions shape this examination: What kinds of nineteenth-century visual practices and technologies of seeing do these materials engage? How does scientific knowledge get translated into the visual and disseminated to the public? What are the commonalities and distinctions in mapping strategies between North and South America? How does the constitution of expeditionary lines reorder space and the natural landscape itself? The volume represents the first transnational and hemispheric analysis of nineteenth-century cartographic aesthetics and features the multi-disciplinary perspective of historians, geographers and art historians. The New Century Book of Facts Carroll Davidson Wright, 1929
