Bieda,AnnaMarie Conner,Karl W. Kosko,Megan Staples,2022-03-03 This book aims to advance ongoing debates in the field of mathematics and mathematics education regarding conceptions of argumentation justification and proof and the consequences for research and practice when applying particular conceptions of each construct Through analyses of classroom practice across grade levels using different lenses particular conceptions of argumentation justification and proof researchers consider the implications of how each conception shapes empirical outcomes In each section organized by grade band authors adopt particular conceptions of argumentation justification and proof and they analyse one data set from each perspective In addition each section includes a synthesis chapter from an expert in the field to bring to the fore potential implications as well as new questions raised by the analyses Finally a culminating section considers the use of each conception across grade bands and data sets Conference Proceedings. The Future of Education Pixel,2015-07-01 Narrating the Soviet Era in Russian School History Textbooks Olga Konkka,2025-09-03 This study focuses on how Russian history textbooks published between 1992 and 2021 dealt with the topic of the Soviet period 1917 1991

Representations of this part of Russia's past in school manuals have provoked vivid debates and bolstered government intervention in the field while a gradual shift towards a less critical narrative of the USSR in more recent textbooks is often presented as directed by Vladimir Putin. This study combines research into these texts and inquiry into those who write, publish, approve or criticize them. Bringing together these perspectives provides a more complex view of school textbooks as final products of both top-down and bottom-up processes. This volume is aimed at postgraduate researchers and academics specializing in Soviet history, contemporary Russian politics and society and history education and textbooks.
