Language, Power and Pedagogy Jim Cummins, 2000-09-22 Population mobility is at an all time high in human history One result of this unprecedented movement of peoples around the world is that in many school systems monolingual and monocultural students are the exception rather than the rule particularly in urban areas This shift in demographic realities entails enormous challenges for educators and policy makers What do teachers need to know in order to teach effectively in linguistically and culturally diverse contexts How long does it take second language learners to acquire proficiency in the language of school instruction What are the differences between attaining conversational fluency in everyday contexts and developing proficiency in the language registers required for academic success What adjustments do we need to make in curriculum instruction and assessment to ensure that second language learners understand what is being taught and are assessed in a fair and equitable manner How long do we need to wait before including second language learners in high stakes national examinations and assessments What role if any should be accorded students first language in the curriculum Do bilingual education programs work well for poor children from minority language backgrounds or should they be reserved only for middle class children from the majority or dominant group In addressing these issues this volume focuses not only on issues of language learning and teaching but also highlights the ways in which power relations in the wider society affect patterns of teacher student interaction in the classroom Effective instruction will inevitably challenge patterns of coercive power relations in both school and society

English for the Children Johanna J. Haver, 2013-05-23 Silicon Valley software entrepreneur Ron Unz took on the education establishment both major political parties the ACLU and several activist groups with his English for the Children movement that began in 1996 and ended on Election Day 2002 His campaign to dismantle bilingual education through ballot measures in four states California Arizona Colorado and Massachusetts drew frequent responses from the national media that initially opposed and then supported Unz's cause The initiatives passed with 61-68% of the vote in three states but failed in Colorado Experienced teacher and author of Structured English Immersion Johanna J Haver details the politics surrounding the Unz campaign explaining both sides of the issues honestly and respectfully She outlines the challenges that ensued after the measures became law and discusses areas of concern that remain in dispute to this day Identification placement and reclassification of English language learners English proficiency tests Segregation versus integration Compliance versus flexibility The Office for Civil Rights Federal and state funding Dual language instruction as an option

The Smart Society Peter Salins, 2014-02-11 The Smart Society offers a detailed blueprint for how the United States can recast its human capital policies to make all Americans not just a privileged elite smarter and more successful than ever before at the same time stemming the size and cost of the nation's safety net The spectacular centuries long success of the United States is based on its having determined early on to be a smart country single mindedly developing institutions and practices that enabled its native born citizens to maximize their economic and social potential and welcoming opportunity seeking foreigners to join them Over the last four decades however the vaunted United States human capital machine has been breaking down dimming the economic and social prospects of millions of Americans If The Smart Society blueprint is followed these trends can be reversed and the nation and its people can quickly regain their preeminence in the hyper competitive and globalized world of the 21st century This is a most topical issue today because the country's current heated political disagreements are not just about the proper size of government but about how the United States can reverse its apparent decline and restore its historic economic and social vigor in other words regain its place as the world's smartest nation

Twin Pandemics Alison L. Bailey, Jose Felipe Martinez, Andreas Oranje, Molly Faulkner-Bond, 2023-09-19 This book examines how the COVID 19 pandemic and racial inequities affect the educational assessment of students either separately or in combination as the health crisis was viewed as a factor intersecting with and exacerbating existing racial inequities in educational systems The four empirical papers in this book attend to the challenges of implementing virtual standardized testing during the coronavirus pandemic the different educational and assessment experiences of diverse groups of school age students and the reconsideration of traditional assessment approaches in response to mounting research evidence and growing concerns around enduring social and racial inequities faced by Black Latinx Asian Indigenous and other non white citizens and communities The four conceptual papers focus primarily on the ways in which assessment may contribute to systemic racism and offer potential solutions to move the educational assessment field forward In totality the volume offers needed empirical evidence innovative methodological approaches and theoretical and substantive examinations of the effects of the twin pandemics Twin Pandemics will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Educational Assessment Education Psychometrics Educational Research Ethnic Studies Research Methods Sociology of Education and Psychology The chapters included in this book were originally published as a special issue of Educational Assessment
