Writing local history John Beckett, 2013-07-19 This fascinating book looks at how local history developed from the antiquarian county studies of the sixteenth century through the growth of professional history in the nineteenth century to the recent past Concentrating on the past sixty years it looks at the opening of archive offices the invigorating influence of family history the impact of adult education and other forms of lifelong learning The author considers the debates generated by academics including the divergence of views over local and regional issues and the importance of standards set by the Victoria County History VCH Also discussed is the fragmentation of the subject The antiquarian tradition included various subject areas that are now separate disciplines among them industrial archaeology name studies family landscape and urban history This is an authoritative account of how local history has come to be one of the most popular and productive intellectual pastimes in our modern society Written by a practitioner who has spent more than twenty years teaching local history to undergraduates and M A students as well as lecturing to local history societies John Beckett is currently Director of the VCH A remarkable book that will be of great interest to students and scholars of local history as well as amateur and professional genealogists

Antislavery in the Dissenting Atlantic Bridget Bennett, 2025-04-09 Bridget Bennett s Antislavery in the Dissenting Atlantic explores the impact of a historically situated set of transatlantic networks chiefly centered on prominent communities of religious nonconformists in England and Pennsylvania in the decades between the American Revolution and American Civil War The study reveals the alliances forged out of progressive religious and political commitments to dissent that enabled expansive connections across the Atlantic world These developments emerged from local proximities and combined an optimistic devotion to social justice and education with a global vision Bennett s work offers an original and innovative reading of transatlantic partnerships exploring obscure writings overlooked individuals and the cultures of the everyday while also affording fresh understandings of familiar antislavery texts

New Approaches to the Comparative Abolition in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans Jesús Sanjurjo, Manuel Barcia, 2023-05-08 Taking the theme of abolition as its point of departure this book builds on the significant growth in scholarship on unfree labour in the Atlantic and Indian Ocean worlds during the past two decades The essays included here revisit some of the persistent problems posed by the traditional comparative literature on slavery and indentured labour and identify new and exciting areas for future research This book is intended for a broad audience including scholars students as well as for a general readership who have specific interests in the history of the slave trade slavery and imperial history It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Atlantic Studies Global Currents

Medicine, Charity and Mutual Aid Peter Shapely, 2016-04-29 The history of the voluntary sector in British towns and cities has received increasing scholarly attention in recent years Nevertheless whilst there have been a number of valuable contributions looking at issues such as charity as a key welfare provider charity and medicine and charity and power in the community there has been no book length exploration of the role and position of the recipient By focusing on the recipients of charity rather than the donors or institutions this volume tackles searching questions of social control and cohesion and the relationship between providers and recipients in a new and revealing manner It is shown how these issues changed over the course of the nineteenth century as the frontier between the state and the voluntary sector shifted away from charity towards greater reliance on public finance workers contributions and mutual aid In turn these new sources of assistance enriched civil society encouraging democratization empowerment and social inclusion for previously marginalized members of the community The book opens with an introduction that locates medicine charity and mutual aid within their broad historiographical and urban contexts Twelve archive based inter related chapters follow Their main chronological focus is the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries which witnessed such momentous changes in the attitudes to and allocation of charity and poor relief However individual chapters on the early modern period the eighteenth century and the aftermath of the Second World War provide illuminating context and help ensure that the volume provides a systematic overview of the subject that will be of interest to social urban and medical historians

Retail and Community George Campbell Gosling, Alix R. Green, Grace Millar, 2024-06-28 Retail has never existed in a vacuum This interdisciplinary volume explores how English commercial co operative and charity retailing were shaped by and in turn influenced their social and political environments from the local to the global between the late nineteenth and early twenty first centuries Historians sociologists archivists and heritage professionals engage with current debates on the rise of modern business and the decline of the high street class and credit professionalisation in the voluntary sector migration and the end of empire This book will be a key resource to better understand retail and community in an era defined by social change shedding new light on the enduring centrality of community relationships to modern retailers
