Middle East and Central Asia Dept., 2021-04-11 A year into the coronavirus COVID 19 pandemic the race between vaccine and virus entered a new phase in the Middle East and Central Asia and the path to recovery in 2021 is expected to be long and divergent The outlook will vary significantly across countries depending on the pandemic s path vaccine rollouts underlying fragilities exposure to tourism and contact intensive sectors and policy space and actions 2021 will be the year of policies that continue saving lives and livelihoods and promote recovery while balancing the need for debt sustainability and financial resilience At the same time policymakers must not lose sight of the transformational challenges to build forward better and accelerate the creation of more inclusive resilient sustainable and green economies Regional and international cooperation will be key complements to strong domestic policies Regional Economic Outlook: Middle East and Central Asia International Monetary Fund. Middle East and Central Asia Dept., 2022-10-31 In a worsening global environment economies in the Middle East and Central Asia are being buffeted by a confluence of shocks a global slowdown high and volatile food and energy prices faster and stronger than expected tightening of financial conditions and the risk of fragmentation The region s emerging market and middle income economies EM MIs and low income countries LICs are hit hard with many facing curtailed access to market financing while oil exporting countries are being buffered by still high energy prices The adverse impact of Russia s war in Ukraine on the Caucasus and Central Asia CCA has thus far been milder than expected Still the CCA s strong ties to Russia entail substantial risks to the region s outlook The most urgent policy challenge for all countries is to tackle the cost of living crisis by restoring price stability protecting vulnerable groups through targeted support and ensuring food security Policy trade offs in EM MIs and LICs have become more pronounced than ever as they also need to preserve debt sustainability and financial stability Oil exporters have the opportunity to maximize the benefits of the oil windfall by building buffers and advancing their diversification plans CCA countries should carefully assess the magnitude and durability of the initial spillovers from the war in Ukraine and adjust their policy mix accordingly Limited policy space in many countries raises the urgency of structural reforms to bolster economic growth while transforming economies to become more resilient sustainable diversified and inclusive Foreign Agricultural Economic Report ,1983 Regional Economic Outlook ,2005 These reports discuss recent economic developments and prospects for countries in various regions They also address economic policy developments that have affected economic performance in the regions and discuss key challenges faced by policymakers The reports include data for countries in the regions Stock Markets of the Arab World A. S. Abdul Hadi, 2023-05-31 First published in 1988 Stock Markets of the Arab World provides a sound description and analysis of the stock market situation in Arab countries and an evaluation of previous attempts at the integration of capital markets Foreign interest in the oil producing Arab countries has grown due to the accumulation of international reserves Oil producers are looking for an alternative to their near term investments in United States Securities through a diversification of their economies This book argues that these countries could profitably invest these reserves through an integration of their securities markets It also says that prospects of increased linkages among Arab domestic markets do exist This is an interesting read for scholars and researchers of Middle East studies Arab economy and economics in general Regional Economic Outlook Update: Middle East and Central Asia, January 2024 International Monetary Fund. Middle East and Central Asia Dept., 2024-01-31 The conflict in Gaza and Israel is yet another shock to the Middle East and North Africa MENA region It is causing immense human suffering and exacerbating an already challenging environment for neighboring economies and beyond This Update covers economies in the MENA region and does not discuss developments in Israel It discusses the updated outlook for the region risks and policy recommendations Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Superintendent of Documents, 1990 Saudi Arabia Anthony H Cordesman, 2019-05-20 With this multivolume study Anthony H Cordesman once again proves that he is a leading authority on the affairs of the Middle Eastern states Cordesman led this comprehensive net assessment of the political economic energy security both internal and external and military trends in each of the Gulf states as well as the power projection cap Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents , 1990-07 Regional Economic Outlook, October 2019, Middle East and Central Asia International Monetary Fund. Middle East and Central Asia Dept., 2019-11-06 Growth in the near term remains subdued for oil exporters in the Middle East North Africa Afghanistan and Pakistan MENAP region amid volatile oil prices precarious global growth elevated fiscal vulnerabilities and heightened geopolitical tensions In addition declining productivity is dampening medium term growth prospects To reduce dependence on oil prices and pave the way for more sustainable growth fiscal consolidation needs to resume underpinned by improved medium term fiscal frameworks In parallel structural reforms and further financial sector development would boost foreign direct investment FDI and domestic private investment and foster diversification thus contributing to improved productivity and potential growth World Economic Outlook, October 2016 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept., 2016-10-04 According to the October 2016 World Economic Outlook global growth is projected to slow to 3.1 percent in 2016 before recovering to 3.4 percent in 2017 The forecast revised down by 0.1 percentage point for 2016 and 2017 relative to April's report reflects a more subdued outlook for advanced economies following the June U.K. vote in favor of leaving the European Union Brexit and weaker than expected growth in the United States These developments have put further downward pressure on global interest rates as monetary policy is now expected to remain accommodative for longer Although the market reaction to the Brexit shock was reassuringly orderly the ultimate impact remains very unclear as the fate of institutional and trade arrangements between the United Kingdom and the European Union is uncertain Financial market sentiment toward emerging market economies has improved with expectations of lower interest rates in advanced economies reduced concern about China's near term prospects following policy support to growth and some firming of commodity prices But prospects differ sharply across countries and regions with emerging Asia in general and India in particular showing robust growth and sub-Saharan Africa experiencing a sharp slowdown In advanced economies a subdued outlook subject to sizable uncertainty and downside risks may fuel further political discontent with anti integration policy platforms gaining more traction Several emerging market and developing economies still face daunting policy challenges in adjusting to weaker commodity prices These worrisome prospects make the need for a broad based policy response to raise growth and manage vulnerabilities more urgent than ever

Regional Economic Outlook

International Monetary Fund, 2007 Reality Check Roberta Gatti, Daniel Lederman, Asif Islam, Rachel Yuting Fan, Christina Wood, Rana Lotfi, Ha Nguyen, Mennatallah Mousa, 2022-04-11 The Middle East and North Africa economies face an uncertain recovery The war in Ukraine presents significant challenges to the global economy and the MENA region Inflationary pressures brought about by the pandemic are likely to be further exacerbated by the conflict The potential for rising food prices is even higher which is likely to hurt the wallets of the poor and vulnerable in the region The COVID 19 pandemic continues to cast a shadow As the latest variant sweeps over the region countries grapple with a host of problems depending on initial conditions and policy priorities The region like the rest of the world is not out of the woods yet Vaccinations remain the effective path out of the pandemic leading to lower hospitalizations and death rates Testing helps curb the spread During times of uncertainty it is important to not be overconfident about the region's growth prospects Growth forecasts serve as a significant signpost for policymakers to chart a path forward Over the last decade growth forecasts in the MENA region have often been inaccurate and overly optimistic which can lead to economic contractions down the road due to ebullient borrowing There is considerable room for the region to improve its forecasts that are largely hindered by opaque data systems growth volatility and conflict The MENA region lags considerably in the timely production of credible statistics A key finding of the report is that the best way to improve forecasts is to provide forecasters with as much good quality information as possible

The Economies of the Arab World Yusuf Sayigh, 2014-10-30 This book a comprehensive study of twelve of the economies of key countries of the Arab world has three main objectives to record the developmental achievements and failings of each country to examine the main issues arising in the drive for development and to assess the future outlook for development for each country Most of the countries studied only gained independence from their colonial masters in recent decades and the process of economic development has necessarily been accompanied by political development First published in 1978 Middle East and North Africa Economic Monitor, April 2015 Shantayanan

Devarajan,Lili Mottaghi,2015-04-14 The economic outlook for the Middle East and North Africa MENA region in 2015 is slightly more favorable than in 2013 14 when the region as a whole grew at 3 percent a year The World Bank group s latest MENA Economic Monitor projects MENA s economic growth to average 5 2 percent in 2015 driven by domestic consumption easing political tensions crowding in investments in Egypt and Tunisia and full resumption of oil production in Libya However the violent conflicts in Syria Iraq Gaza Yemen and Libya with their spillovers to Lebanon and Jordan could make MENA s economic prospects bleak The report has a special focus on the corrosive nature of the large energy subsidies in MENA The MENA region is currently experiencing growth below potential high unemployment urban air pollution and congestion and severe water scarcity that is undermining agriculture The report shows how energy subsidies have contributed to these development challenges Reforming these subsidies therefore should be one of the highest priorities of policymakers
