

Pump Up the Volume!

Volume

Volume is how much space an object takes up. The beaker on the left measures the volume of water in milliliters (mL). The beaker on the right measures the volume of an object with an irregular shape plus the volume of the water. To find the volume of just the orange, you must use subtraction:

A diagram illustrating the subtraction process. It shows a beaker with water and an orange object, a beaker with water, and a separate orange object. The beakers are stacked vertically, with the top one containing both water and the orange object, and the bottom one containing only water. A horizontal line separates the two, and a single orange object is shown below the line. Large purple curly braces are on either side of the text.
