Minteer,Stephen J. Pyne,2015-03-25 From John Muir to David Brower from the creation of Yellowstone National Park to the Endangered Species Act environmentalism in America has always had close to its core a preservationist ideal Generations have been inspired by its ethos to encircle nature with our protection to keep it apart pristine walled against the march of human development But we have to face the facts Accelerating climate change rapid urbanization agricultural and industrial devastation metastasizing fire regimes and other quickening anthropogenic forces all attest to the same truth the earth is now spinning through the age of humans After Preservation takes stock of the ways we have tried to both preserve and exploit nature to ask a direct but profound question what is the role of preservationism in an era of seemingly unstoppable human development in what some have called the Anthropocene Ben A Minteer and Stephen J Pyne bring together a stunning consortium of voices comprised of renowned scientists historians philosophers environmental writers activists policy makers and land managers to negotiate the incredible challenges that environmentalism faces Some call for a new post preservationist model one that is far more pragmatic interventionist and human centered Others push forcefully back arguing for a more chastened and restrained vision of human action on the earth Some try to establish a middle ground while others ruminate more deeply on the meaning and value of wilderness Some write on species lost others on species saved and yet others discuss the enduring practical challenges of managing our land water and air From spirited optimism to careful prudence to critical skepticism the resulting range of approaches offers an inspiring contribution to the landscape of modern environmentalism one driven by serious sustained engagements with the critical problems we must solve if we and the wild garden we may now keep are going to survive the era we have ushered in Contributors include Chelsea K Batavia F Stuart Terry Chapin III Norman L Christensen Jamie Rappaport Clark William Wallace Covington Erle C Ellis Mark Fiege Dave Foreman Harry W Greene Emma Marris Michelle Marvier Bill McKibben J R McNeill Curt Meine Ben A Minteer Michael Paul Nelson Bryan Norton Stephen J Pyne Andrew C Revkin Holmes Rolston III Amy Seidl Jack Ward Thomas Diane J Vosick John A Vucetich Hazel Wong and Donald Worster

The Death and Life of the Great American School System Diane

Ravitch, 2016-06-28 An urgent case for protecting public education from one of America's best known education experts In this landmark book Diane Ravitch former assistant secretary of education and a leader in the drive to create a national curriculum examines her career in education reform and repudiates positions that she once staunchly advocated Drawing on over forty years of research and experience Ravitch critiques today's most popular ideas for restructuring schools including privatization the Common Core standardized testing the replacement of teachers by technology charter schools and vouchers She shows conclusively why the business model is not an appropriate way to improve schools Using examples from major cities like New York Philadelphia Chicago Denver and San Diego Ravitch makes the case that public education today is in peril and includes clear prescriptions for improving America's schools The Death and Life of the Great American School System is more than just an analysis of the state of play of the American education system It is a must read for any stakeholder in the future of American schooling
