China and Orientalism Daniel Vukovich, 2013-06-17 This book argues that there is a new Sinological form of orientalism at work in the world. It has shifted from a logic of essential difference to one of sameness or general equivalence. China is now in a halting but inevitable process of becoming the same as the USA and the West. Orientalism is now closer to the cultural logic of capitalism even as it shows the afterlives of colonial discourse. This shift reflects our era of increasing globalization, the migration of orientalism to area studies and the pax Americana, the liberal triumph at the end of history and the demonization of Maoism, an ever closer Sino-West relationship and the overlapping of anti-communist and colonial discourses. To make the case for this reconstitution of orientalism, this work offers an interdisciplinary analysis of the China field broadly defined. Vukovich takes on specialist work on the politics, governance and history of the Mao and reform eras from the Great Leap Forward to Tiananmen 1989, the Western study of Chinese film, recent work in critical theory which turns on the China reference and other global texts about or from China. Through extensive analysis, the production of Sinological knowledge is shown to be of a piece with Western global intellectual political culture. This work will be of great interest to scholars of Asian postcolonial and cultural studies.

A Practical Introduction to Survey Design Haydn Aarons, 2020-12-02 This is your definitive guide to designing your social survey. It includes all the knowledge and skills you need to plan your survey with confidence and ease. The book also comes with a host of useful online resources including templates and reflective questions to help strengthen your understanding and apply your new found knowledge.

Learning and Not Learning in the Heritage Language Classroom Kimberly Adilia Helmer, 2020-02-13 Learning and Not Learning in the Heritage Language Classroom, a critical ethnography, describes the first year of a teacher-founded charter high school and presents a case study of compulsory Spanish heritage language instruction with two Spanish language teachers, one English dominant and the other Spanish dominant. The study follows the same cohort of Mexican origin students to their humanities English class, bringing into focus what works and what does not with this group of learners. Unlike many Spanish heritage language studies, the students in this book did not choose to take part in Spanish class and thus provide unusually raw feedback on their teachers and classes. The engagement and resistance of these students suggests pedagogical directions for engaging Spanish heritage language learners. The book will be of interest to scholars, administrators, students and teachers involved in the delivery and assessment of heritage language classes.
