Tsagari, 2020-04-21 The field of language testing and assessment has recognized the importance and underlying theoretical and practical underpinnings of language assessment literacy LAL an area that is gradually coming to prominence This book addresses issues that promote the concept of LAL for language research teaching and learning covering a range of topics It brings together 14 chapters based on high stakes and classroom based studies authored by academics professionals and researchers in the field The text examines diverse issues through a multifaceted approach presenting high quality contributions that fill a gap in a research area that has long been in need of theoretical and empirical attention Ethics and Mathematics Education Paul Ernest, 2024-06-10 This edited volume is an inquiry into the ethics of mathematics education and to a lesser extent the ethics of mathematics The imposition of mathematics for all raises questions of ethics What are the ethics of teaching school mathematics What are the costs as well as the benefits What are the ethical issues raised by the official aims of mathematics teaching the planned curriculum the pedagogies employed in school and college mathematics and the assessment systems These questions are addressed in the book as well as what systems of ethics we might use The volume ventures into a burgeoning new field It offers a unique set of investigations both theoretical and in terms of practices It announces the ethics of mathematics education as a new subfield of research and includes valuable contributions from many of the best known researchers in mathematics education additionally it is a valuable resource for students teachers and researchers in the field This is an enduring and classic source book in the field From the wisdom of leading scholars to the little heard voices of students this collection offers the reader many striking new insights into the ethics of mathematics and education PISA Making Education Count for Development Data Collection and Availability in Six PISA for Development Countries UNESCO Institute for Statistics,2016-09-28 This report provides a systematic review of the collection availability and quality of metadata as well as data regarding education at the system level for countries participating in the PISA for Development PISA D project Cambodia Ecuador Guatemala Paraguay Senegal and Zambia

How to Teach Maths Steve Chinn,2020-11-23 How to Teach Maths challenges everything you thought you knew about how maths is taught in classrooms Award winning author Steve Chinn casts a critical eye over many of the long established methods and beliefs of maths teaching Drawing from decades of classroom experience and research he shows how mathematics teaching across the whole ability range can be radically improved by learning from the successful methods and principles used for the bottom quartile of achievers the outliers Chinn guides readers through re adjusting the presentation of maths to learners considering learners needs first and explains the importance of securing early learning to create a conceptual foundation for later success This highly accessible book uses clear diagrams and examples to support maths teachers through many critical issues including the following The context of maths education today Topics that cause students the most difficulty Effective communication in the mathematics classroom Addressing maths anxiety The perfect resource for maths teachers at all levels this book is especially useful for those wanting to teach the foundations of mathematics in a developmental way to learners of all ages and abilities It has the potential to change the way maths is taught forever South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull,Jonathan D. Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO, 2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0 3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not
