Groundwork Between Landscape And Architecture Hardcover:

Groundwork Diana Balmori, Joel Sanders, 2011-09-27 The current environmental crisis calls for a unified practice of landscape and architecture that would allow buildings and landscapes to perform symbiotically to heal the environment Over the past ten years a diverse group of architects landscape architects and artists have undertaken groundbreaking projects that propose an integration of landscape and architecture dissolving traditional distinctions between building and environment Groundwork Between Landscape and Architecture examines twenty five projects on an international scale that consider landscape and architecture as true reciprocal entities Groundwork divides the projects into three design directions Topography Ecology and Biocomputation Topographic designers create projects that manipulate the ground to merge building and landscape as in Cairo Expo City in Egypt Zaha Hadid Architects Island City Central Park Grin Grin in Fukuoka Japan Toyo Ito Associates and the City of Culture of Galicia in Santiago de Compostela Spain Eisenman Architects Ecologic designers develop environments that address issues such as energy climate and remediation such as I m Lost In Paris in France R Sie n Turistroute in Eggum Norway Sn hetta and Parque Atl ntico in Santander Cantabria Spain Batlle i Roig Arquitectes Biocomputation designers use digital technologies to align biology and design in projects such as the Grotto Concept Aranda Lasch North Side Copse House in West Sussex England EcoLogicStudio and Local Code Real Estates Nicolas de Monchaux What these projects all have in common is a desire to pay attention and homage to the liminal space where indoors and outdoors meet The critical connection between natural and synthetic exterior and interior space paves the way toward a more inclusive and indeed more alive conceptualization of the physical world Landscape Architecture ,1996

ASLA Members' Handbook American Society of Landscape Architects, 1985 Transitory Gardens, Uprooted Lives Diana Balmori, Margaret Morton, 1995-01-01 Jimmy s garden on the Lower East Side of Manhattan an assortment of stones and garbage bags five tires a chair a skid a refrigerator shelf some ailanthus trees and goldfish a wooden fence and a pond with water carried by hand from a nearby fire hydrant was recently bulldozed by the city Jimmy then disappeared Anna s garden is surrounded by a tall chainlink fence and filled with a menagerie of dolls and stuffed animals The animals are whole the dolls are maimed Anna is a recluse who speaks to no one The neighbors say she was in a concentration camp as a child Gardens have always been associated with wealth and leisure viewed as an addition to home In this remarkable book a landscape architect and a photographer show us in word and pictures gardens built by homeless or impoverished New York City inhabitants Like traditional gardens these spaces are designed for pleasure social activity or private retreat Unlike traditional gardens they are connected to a more active and ephemeral use of the land Transitory gardens speak the language of our times here we find the reuse of nearly everything discarded a sparing use of water and plant materials an economical treatment of space and a penchant for icons toys flags and symbols of freedom and nationality The gardens expand our definition of what makes a garden and what its design means for its creator Diana Balmori s commentary and

Margaret Morton's photographs combine with the garden makers own descriptions to encourage us to take note of gardens grown in unlikely places on abandoned littered lots bounded by debris By focusing on what homeless people make not for material comfort but from social and spiritual need the book offers insight into both the meaning of landscape and the place of a garden in the life of an individual under duress Frank Lloyd Wright Quarterly ,2009 Journal of the Society of

Re-envisioning Landscape/architecture Catherine Spellman,Peter Cook,Christine Boyer,2003 Re envisioning Landscape Architecture suggests that the relationship between landscape and architecture might be imagined over and over again in such a way that each is defined less as a quantifiable object and more as an idea a way of seeing act of making and way of engaging culture and society The essays collected here offer many interpretations and possibilities for this relationship with the common assumption that it should be considered at every negotiation between realms of thought and whenever culture and place are to be incorporated with understanding and meaning The collection is based in a belief that the landscape architecture relationship is at the center of all inspired design therefore in one way or another each essay addresses how this relationship is created nurtured and maintained to ensure the making of integrated design work
