Martin Eden (Annotated) Jack London, 2020-11-05

Jack London's novel Martin Eden 1909 centers on the character Martin Eden a poor young sailor who has grown up in a working class family without receiving any education Martin dreams of being a writer and rising in the ranks of social class to show the world what he can do As the novel begins Martin who lives in Oakland is struggling to rise out of his current circumstances as a destitute proletarian to make something of himself He is on a mission to educate himself which he believes is the key to bettering his life He hopes to one day achieve the same status as some of the literary scholars he is studying One day while working in his position as a sailor on a ferry Martin defends Arthur Morse against a gang of hooligans Roughly the same age as Martin Arthur comes from a well to do family and has received a formal education Wanting to show Martin his gratitude for having saved him Arthur invites him to dinner thinking that his family will get a kick out of having an eccentric stranger as their dinner guest Martin accepts Arthur's invitation following him to his family home which he finds is filled with exquisite paintings books and music Fascinated by the presence of such a rich culture in the Morse home Martin feels quite humbled in comparison Martin is especially enthralled by the presence of Arthur's sister Ruth whom he believes to be the essence of purity and all that is good in the world He is immediately determined to prove himself worthy of her He knows that because of the status of the Morse family a union between him and Ruth would be very unlikely unless he could somehow attain the same level of wealth and social status a seemingly impossible mission Martin begins going to the library and reading extensively immersing himself in the knowledge of languages and literature He believes that he can educate himself enough to compete with others with a formal education Ruth believes in Martin and helps him with his studies acting as an encouraging presence in his life However Ruth's approach is very much a product of her own experiences and background which she tries to impose on Martin unsuccessfully She realizes that Martin is extremely different from the other men of her social circle and has difficulty coming to terms with this fact Meanwhile Martin is running out of money He has spent all of the money he earned on his last voyage and must once again set sail in order to sustain himself and continue his studies Martin has hired another sailor to help him on this journey and together they go off to sea for an eight month voyage During this time Martin continues to learn having brought books with him He improves a lot enriching his vocabulary and learning a lot about himself along the way During this voyage Martin decides that he wants to become a writer He feels that it will be a great way to relay his experiences traveling to the rest of the world and especially to Ruth He hopes to impress the girl with his writing and to share everything that he sees with her When Martin returns to Oakland he begins his writing process His first piece of writing is an essay on treasure hunters which he sends to the San Francisco Observer He then starts to work on a story about whalers During this time he is overcome with excitement over his newfound passion and he writes to Ruth about it expecting that she will be impressed with his dedication to the written word Martin Eden Annotated Jack London,2021-01-07

Martin Eden 1909 is a novel by American author Jack London about a struggling young writer This book is a favorite among writers who relate to Martin Eden's speculation that when he mailed off a manuscript there was no human editor at the other end but a mere cunning arrangement of cogs that changed the manuscript from one envelope to another and stuck on the stamps returning it automatically with a rejection slip While some readers believe there is some resemblance between them an important difference between Jack London and Martin Eden is that Martin Eden rejects socialism attacking it as slave morality and relies on a Nietzschean individualism In a note to Upton Sinclair Jack London wrote One of my motifs in this book was an attack on individualism in the person of the hero I must have bungled for not a single reviewer has discovered it
