Review of Research on Achieving the Nation's Readiness Goal United States. OERI Goal 1 Work Group,1993 An Analysis of Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak's Can the Subaltern Speak? Graham Riach,2017-07-05 A critical analysis of Spivak's classic 1988 postcolonial studies essay in which she argues that a core problem for the poorest and most marginalized in society the subalterns is that they have no platform to express their concerns and no voice to affect policy debates or demand a fairer share of society's goods A key theme of Gayatri Spivak's work is agency the ability of the individual to make their own decisions While Spivak's main aim is to consider ways in which subalterns her term for the indigenous dispossessed in colonial societies were able to achieve agency this paper concentrates specifically on describing the ways in which western scholars inadvertently reproduce hegemonic structures in their work Spivak is herself a scholar and she remains acutely aware of the difficulty and dangers of presuming to speak for the subalterns she writes about As such her work can be seen as predominantly a delicate exercise in the critical thinking skill of interpretation she looks in detail at issues of meaning specifically at the real meaning of the available evidence and her paper is an attempt not only to highlight problems of definition but to clarify them What makes this one of the key works of interpretation in the Macat library is of course the underlying significance of this work Interpretation in this case is a matter of the difference between allowing subalterns to speak for themselves and of imposing a mode of speaking on them that however well intentioned can be as damaging in the postcolonial world as the agency stifling political structures of the colonial world itself By clearing away the detritus of scholarly attempts at interpretation Spivak takes a stand against a specifically intellectual form of oppression and marginalization Review of the diversity of palm oil production systems in Indonesia Baudoin, A.,Bosc, P-M,Bessou, C.,Levang, P.,2017-05-09 This paper proposes an overview of the development of oil palm production in Indonesia combining two levels i a national and historical perspective of the development of the sector ii a regional approach considering two contrasting provinces Riau and Jambi Starting with colonial times the national approach deals first with the main periods that punctuate the development of oil palm plantations up to the contemporary period marked by the liberalization of the economy It emphasizes several factors that played a strategic role in the development of palm oil production such as the role of the State and migration After presenting the different models that structure the relationships among stakeholders and how these relationships have evolved the role of small family planters is analyzed This section ends with a review of some controversial issues livelihood improvement land tenure and customary rights inclusion versus exclusion market risks forest and environmental threats and governance The regional approach gives context to the development of palm oil production within two territories that have different historical backgrounds with Jambi entering into production relatively recently In each of the two provinces the themes and issues involved in palm oil development identified at national level are analyzed with specific emphasis on stakeholders strategic behaviours The paper concludes with a comparative perspective on both

provinces The Nation's Schools Michael Vincent O'Shea,1929 The New Nation ,1968 The Passionate Bureaucrat Max Everest-Phillips,2018 Effective and impartial public administration is the foundation of state legitimacy This was understood 4 500 years ago when Urukagina the ruler of a small country in Mesopotamia proclaimed the first known reform of public service The quality of public administration will be even more important in the 21st century Successful states will be those that recognise public service as a key determinant of national competitive advantage That realisation will generate a radical change in the image of the civil servant from dull uninspired public official to passionate advocate of the common good This transformation will be the product of the complex challenges arising from the interweaving of globalisation with the 4th Industrial Revolution These and related developments are forcing governments around the world to search for public service that can respond to the unprecedented range of opportunities and threats emerging from a rapidly evolving international context In an increasingly frenetic world ruled by Wicked Ostriches and Black Elephants governments require a civil service capable of achieving five outcomes i unlocking the creativity and collaborative spirit needed to solve complex problems ii overcoming the fallacy that the private sector is inherently more innovative and efficient than the public service iii developing societies that are perceived by their citizens as fair iv fostering the trust of citizens in their governments and v bolstering the legitimacy of the state The author who is Director of the United Nations Development Programme s Global Centre for Public Service Excellence in Singapore suggests that these interconnected aims will result in a new phenomenon the public recognition by political leaders and citizens that future prosperity political stability environmental sustainability and social cohesion are dependent on committed and creative civil servants passionate about promoting the long term national interest Publisher s website Essentials of Public Health Preparedness and Emergency Management Katz,Jim Banaski,2018-03-02 The public health community plays a vital role in identifying responding to containing and recovering from emergencies Essentials of Public Health Preparedness will introduce your students to the important and timely field of public health preparedness The book presupposes no previous exposure to the concepts yet provides enough depth for students who may have advanced knowledge The chapters are structured in five parts Background of the Field Defining the Problem Infrastructure Solving Problems and Practical Applications Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2007: Dept. of Agriculture, DHHS, nondepartmental witnesses United States.
