and often spent Sunday afternoons at a different aunt and uncle's home. Everyone lived on a farm. Walter and his brother Leslie sold the family farm in 1959. Leslie moved to Wauseon, Ohio, and Walter and Eleanor moved to a 180-acre farm on Stony Lake in Brooklyn, Michigan. Walter had a manufacturing job to supplement the farm income. There was time to play after chores were done. Weekends included visits with family and friends, Sunday drives, singing along with Eleanor playing the piano or games and cards. Walter and Eleanor bought a family restaurant in 1964 where the children worked before or after school when they were old enough. They lost the restaurant in 1970. Failure. Lost the battle. Do what has to be done and keep your damn mouth shut. They lost the farm in 1972 and rented an old house in nearby Onsted. The four younger children were still at home; everyone still at home spent weeks getting the house ready to live in. Every room had old wallpaper to be removed; up to 13 layers in some rooms. Research found the house to be an 1830s plantation house and a stop along the Underground Railroad. No one wants to endure or experience hardships, but they are what builds and strengthens character and enables one to overcome future challenges. Eleanor had the great privilege of watching her children grow up to be well-adjusted, responsible, and happy adults.

Noooo! I'm Not a Cartoon Character Liz Lally, 2013-08-14. Liz Lally wrote a book about her husband Tom two years ago titled Help I Married a Cartoon Character. Some friends remarked, "Liz, you and Tom are two of a kind and definitely Cartoon Characters." Liz shouted, "No, I am not a Cartoon Character." Everyone replied in unison, "Yes, you are." Liz journeyed back in time to see if some of her experiences may be cartoony and a vision of her second-grade picture flashed through her mind. Her hair was parted in the middle and pulled back in braids; her front teeth were missing, and she wore gold-thick wire-rim safety glasses that were always bent so half of one eye was above the glasses. She may not have been a cartoon character yet, but she certainly looked the part. Cartoony situations immediately came to mind. Then she realized these same friends that were accusing her of being a Cartoon Character were with her, and sometimes the cause of many of the cartoony encounters. Liz reveals the humorous cartoony adventures of herself, family, friends, and the people around her. Everyone can relate to these adventures in view of the fact that there is a little Cartoon Character in all of us.
