A critical analysis of the 2007-2009 global financial and economic crisis and its implications for the travel industry and associated businesses Manuel Kaar,2009-09-17

Inhaltsangabe Introduction At present spring 2009 the world experiences one of the most severe economic crises in post WWII history precipitated mainly by the U S sub prime mortgage crisis which became apparent to the broad public in 2007 In 2008 the U S sub prime crisis turned into a global financial crisis and subsequently into a global economic downturn that forced numerous countries into recession Stock markets have fallen large financial institutions have collapsed and governments had to come up with rescue packages to bail out their financial systems Although it can be argued that overall the tourism industry may not be as vulnerable as other commercial sectors when it comes to fluctuations in clients purchasing power in the medium term tourism businesses are still likely to be at least as seriously affected by the upcoming new distribution of economic power as any other industry A long term trade and industry downturn may bring about a broad range of changes to the world like altered roles of the United States the European Union and the Asian block insecurity and crime a different understanding of handling energy resources further polarization between rich and poor or changing values and therefore consumer preferences in general to name just a few All these factors may potentially have adverse impacts on tourism businesses and thus require adequate attention and timely academic research However change can also mean positive development and can open up new chances and opportunities for the world economy These opportunities need to be identified assessed and exploited With an estimated direct and indirect contribution of the travel and tourism sector of 9 4 percent to global GDP 10 9 percent to world exports and 9 4 percent to world investment the significance of the industry s role in the struggle for economic recovery clearly must not be underestimated As the tourism industry is all about pleasant experiences and the positive things in life it is sometimes hard to think about crisis management When having to operate in an economically insecure environment of the current dimension numerous managers therefore face the challenging situation of having to make decisions in fields they do have little or no knowledge about However in a fast changing and highly volatile economic climate like the present inaccurate decisions by executives of tourism businesses can have devastating consequences and can
