on nature regularities and interconnections among cycles of different duration Some economic cycles may result in a severe economic crisis The current one shows once again the importance of the study of cyclical dynamics and its peculiarities Between the 1980s and 1990s the Keynesian receipts were replaced by neoliberal and monetarist ones which seemed to be miraculous as well The depleted growth was marked with the largest global crisis of 2008 which also showed that within globalization when regulation in the international arena is impossible yet there recur the signs of Juglar cycles of the 19th and first half of the 20th centuries with their uncontrollable upwards and sharp declines evolving into collapses and panic This is supported by the fact that for eight years the world has been at the depressive phase This edition will be useful for economists social scientists as well as for a wide range of those interested in the problems of the past present and future of global economy and globalization This research has been supported by the Russian Foundation for the Humanities Project No 16 02 14053

Rethinking

Sustainable Development Seck TAN, 2024-06-03 This book demonstrates falsified economic performance of global economies when the environment is not recognised as a capital and when the ecosystem is overlooked towards sustainable development. Seck begins with an analysis of standard macroeconomic framework and policy practice. He argues with reference to environmental accounting literature that environmental capital must form an integral component of economic measurement. This paves the way for an alternative environmental macroeconomics framework for policy analysis that promotes sustainable development. The book demonstrates how environmental capital can be measured with reference to select OECD countries and provides a methodology for analysing how macroeconomic goals are related to a steady state economy. Seck then concludes with a summary of the conflict between current economic growth and ecosystem preservation and outlines possible policy improvements and directions for research. Rethinking Sustainable Development is an invaluable reference for policymakers as well as researchers and students of environmental economics, sustainable development and macroeconomics.

Chapter 1 This chapter although the longest is a brief review of the interactions between technology, economy and politics. The subject is a much neglected one and I believe that understanding of these interactions is vital for understanding the underlying causes of some of our most important pressing issues. The chapter discusses the interactions between technologies, economy and politics, examining the effect of technologies on economic development and political ideologies.

Chapter 2 This chapter deals with technological revolutions in general and the digital revolution in particular. I shall discuss the components of the digital economy. These being knowledge, digitisation, virtualisation, molecularization, integration, internetworking, disintermediation, convergence, innovation, sharing, economy, immediacy and discordant. In addition we shall examine the disruptors that are changing the face of competition in the marketplace.

Chapter 3 This chapter deals with digital transformation i.e. the process of using digital technology in all areas of business, changing the way the businesses operate and deliver value to their customers. We shall examine models for dealing with digital transformation.

Chapter 4 We shall examine one of the most important developments of the 21st century, namely the advancements in Artificial Intelligence (AI). We shall look at how the human brain works and what is intelligence. We shall look at the artificial neural networks, machine learning and deep learning.
