Schooling Julie A. Edmunds, Fatih Unlu, Elizabeth J. Glennie, Nina Arshavsky, 2022-08-16 Early Colleges as a Model for Schooling advocates for early college high schools as an effective means of reducing academic cultural and financial obstacles to postsecondary education This perceptive work evaluates both quantitatively and qualitatively the impacts of early colleges hybrids that blend elements of secondary and postsecondary education It examines the strengths and challenges of early college models of different designs and explores their place in the greater education system Julie A Edmunds Fatih Unlu Elizabeth J Glennie and Nina Arshavsky craft their narrative around the findings of one of the most ambitious studies to date on early college high schools a fifteen year longitudinal study involving more than four thousand students across nineteen secondary schools that have adopted the model They offer insight into the student experience within early college high schools and beyond The authors demonstrate how the well structured and supportive educational environment of early college not only prepares students academically for college level coursework but also helps students navigate logistical challenges in applying for colleges and universities They show how the positive outcomes of the early college experience can help tip the balance toward successful postsecondary educational experiences especially for historically underserved students such as low income students minority students and first generation college students As the authors point out a shift in the way the transition between secondary and postsecondary education is implemented provides an achievable approach to improving college readiness and lowering educational barriers They argue persuasively that wider adoption of this educational model in high schools has great potential to improve overall access to higher education

Educating, Education, Educators: Working to Create an Educated Nation Ashwannie Harripersaud, 2025-06-16 Educating Education Educators Working to Build an Educated Nation critically examines Guyana s education system through the metaphor of John Donne s stiff twin compasses symbolizing interconnected yet often overlooked concentric circles students teachers parents policymakers and society Challenging the narrow focus on exam results as the sole measure of success the book explores systemic gaps from gender disparities in teaching to linguistic tensions in classrooms psychological barriers in math education and the impact of single parenthood on learning It advocates for holistic success valuing civic mindedness and creativity alongside academic achievement By analyzing these hidden variables the book calls for reforms to foster an equitable innovative and truly educated nation It urges educators and policymakers to redefine success beyond grades prioritizing collective growth and national development A Celebration of the EDGE Program's Impact on the Mathematics Community and Beyond Susan D'Agostino, Sarah Bryant, Amy Buchmann, Michelle Craddock Guinn, Leona Harris, 2019-08-31 The Enhancing Diversity in Graduate Education EDGE Program began twenty years ago to provide support for women entering doctoral programs in the mathematical sciences With a steadfast commitment to diversity among participants faculty and staff EDGE initially alternated between Bryn Mawr and Spelman Colleges In later years EDGE has been hosted on campuses around the nation and expanded to offer support for women throughout their graduate school and professional careers The refereed papers in A Celebration of the EDGE Program's Impact on the Mathematics Community and Beyond range from short memoirs to pedagogical studies to current mathematics research All papers are written by former EDGE participants mentors instructors directors and others connected to EDGE Together these papers offer compelling testimony that EDGE has produced a diverse new generation of leaders in the mathematics community This volume contains technical and non technical works and it is intended for a far reaching audience including mathematicians mathematics teachers diversity officers university administrators government employees writing educational or science policy and mathematics students at the high school college and graduate levels By highlighting the scope of the work done by those supported by EDGE the volume offers strong evidence of the American Mathematical Society's recognition that EDGE is a program that makes a difference This volume offers unique testimony that a 20 year old summer program has expanded its reach beyond the summer experience to produce a diverse new generation of women leaders nearly half of whom are underrepresented women While some books with a women in math theme focus only on one topic such as research or work life balance this book's broad scope includes papers on mathematics research teaching outreach and career paths
