The Year Book of Modern Languages. 1920. Edited for the Council of the Modern Language Association Gilbert Waterhouse, 1920

Year Book of Modern Languages, 1920 The Year Book of Modern Languages Gilbert Waterhouse, 1920

Alienation and Theatricality Phoebe von Held, 2017-07-05 Alienation/Vefremdung is a concept inextricably linked with the name of twentieth-century German playwright Bertolt Brecht with modernism the avant-garde and Marxist theory However as Phoebe von Held argues in this book alienation as a sociological and aesthetic notion avant la lettre had already surfaced in the thought of eighteenth-century French philosopher and writer Denis Diderot This original study destabilizes the conventional understanding of alienation through a reading of Le Paradoxe sur le comédien Le Neveu de Rameau and other works by Diderot opening up new ways of interpretation and aesthetic practices If alienation constitutes a historical development for the Marxist Brecht for Diderot it defines an existential condition Brecht uses the alienation effect to undermine a form of naturalism based on subjectivity identification and illusion Diderot by contrast plunges the spectator into identification and illusion to produce an aesthetic of theatricality that is profoundly alienating and yet remains anchored in subjectivity Mary Berenson Diaries 01 1891-1900 Mary Berenson, 2024-03-31

The Progressive Poetics of Confusion in the French Enlightenment John C. O'Neal, 2011-03-14 In The Progressive Poetics of Confusion in the French Enlightenment John C. O'Neal draws largely on the etymological meaning of the word confusion as the action of mixing or blending in order to trace the development of this project which he claims aimed to reject dogmatic thinking in all of its forms and recognized the need to embrace complexity Eighteenth-century thinkers used the notion of confusion in a progressive way to reorganize social classes literary forms metaphysical substances scientific methods and cultural categories such as taste and gender In this new work O'Neal explores some of the paradoxes of the Enlightenment's theories of knowledge Each of the chapters in this book attempts to address the questions raised by the eighteenth-century's particular approach to confusion as a paradoxical reorganizing principle for the period's progressive agenda. Perhaps the most paradoxical thinker of his times, Diderot occupies a central place in this study of confusion. Other authors include Marivaux, Crillon, Voltaire and Pinel among others. Rousseau and Sade serve as counterexamples to this kind of enlightenment but ultimately do not so much oppose the period's poetics of confusion as they complement it. The final chapter on Sade combines contemporary discussions of politics, society, culture, philosophy and science in an encyclopedic way that at once reflects the entire period's tendencies and establishes important differences between Sade's thinking and that of the mainstream philosophies. Ultimately, confusion serves O'Neal as an overarching positive notion for the Enlightenment and its progressive ideals.

An Annotated Bibliography of Jane Austen Studies, 1984-94 Barry Roth, 1996

This Professor Roth's third annotated bibliography of studies on Jane Austen covers the years 1984-1994. Like the critically acclaimed earlier volumes, it charts the steady growth and enrichment of literary criticism of Austen in the second half of the twentieth century. The first bibliography, which covered the period 1952-1972, contained 794 items; the second, which treated 1973-1983, included over 1,060 pieces; this third work has 1,327 entries. Such concentrated attention paid to this major English novelist shows signs only of intensifying, for fresh illuminating interpretations continue to appear at a rapid pace. This bibliography serves as a scholarly tool, locating and summarizing research so as to establish the present state of our knowledge of Austen studies and to assist others in proceeding as fully informed as possible of past efforts. This third bibliography includes all Austen studies first published in the period 1984-1994, more particularly every book, essay, article and doctoral dissertation on her, as well as the critical matter appended to every edition of her works in English and to translations and significant mentions. For clarity and ease of reference, the bibliography is divided into three main sections. The first covers books, essays and articles devoted entirely or in good part to Austen, including reviews of all the book-length studies. The second section focuses on doctoral dissertations wholly or in part about her. The third gathers together significant mentions included regardless of length when they entail an unusual perceptive or otherwise striking idea. Austen followers everywhere will welcome Roth's thorough research and systematic presentation.

All Puns Intended Walter Redfern, 2017-12-02

The 19th century in France spawned numerous fous littéraires, one of them being Jean Pierre Brisset (1837-1919). An individualist among individualists, he dismantled the existing French tongue, reshaping it to suit his own grandiose purposes, which were to explain afresh the development of human beings from frogs and of their language from croaks. Continuous and ubiquitous punning was a unique feature of his writing. In this study, Redfern examines such themes as the nature of literary madness, the phenomenon of deadpan humour, the role of analogy and the place of institutional religion in Brisset's creative rewriting of the creation.

Individuation and Attachment in the Works of Isabelle de Charrière Jelka Samsom, 2005

The novels published by Isabelle de Charrière before the French Revolution offer a perceptive account of the psychology and the social climate of the late eighteenth century. The anti-Freudian psychoanalysis of the neurologist and psychiatrist Heinz Kohut 1913 81 is used in this study as a means of developing an awareness of the position of the fictional characters Feminist and Freudian readings of Charri re s novels of the 1780s have stressed the closed deterministic atmosphere of contemporary society this new study emphasises what can be called the modern side of the novels patriarchal society and individual needs confront each other and allow the relationships to be seen in a new light By means of Kohut s notion of selfobject a rich insight is gained into the complex relationships described by Isabelle de Charri re
