Hitler: Philosopher King Mark Morris,2020-08-30 Hitler and the NSDAP are a social and historical phenomenon and this book proposes that Hitler's Aspergeric personality and postmodern philosophy combined to enable both his personal political success and then the nature of the regime that he constructed Hitler himself was clearly not a normal human being genius and exceptional in some areas his Asperger's enabled him to single mindedly pursue personal and political power Nietzsche's crystallisation of the previous century and a half of German idealism in a rigorous moral and cultural nihilism was reified and rolled out with Weberian bureaucratic and Prussian militaristic efficiency The post modern state created did not rest on history religious or cultural traditions Ideology was shaped instrumentally in order to yield the maximal amount of the only currency that survives the caustic deconstruction of postmodernism namely power itself

Forgotten Patriot Brian Murphy,2016-09-01 It had been a busy few days for Adolf Hitler but Douglas Hyde had not slipped his mind On 25 June 1938 Douglas Hyde became the first President of Ireland His values stood in stark contrast to those of the continental dictator As a Protestant nationalist and a leading figure in the language revival he made the office an inclusive one and determined to be a president for all the people of Ireland He also played a highly significant but previously unheralded role in the state's policy of neutrality during the Second World War Hitler's fleeting fixation with Hyde was that the new presidency significantly diluted Ireland's bonds with the British Empire The accepted wisdom is that Hyde's transition to the presidency was a seamless process but new research shows it only came about on foot of a late political compromise He may have been a compromise candidate but with his non partisan background he was also an inspired choice Forgotten Patriot shows Hyde's considerable impact on the development and perception of the office of President of Ireland
