today's headlines Reference Guide to World Literature Tom Pendergast, 2003 Covers writers from the ancient Greeks to 20th century authors Includes biographical bibliographical entries on nearly 500 writers and approximately 550 entries focusing on significant works of world literature Each author entry provides a detailed overview of the writer's life and works Work entries cover a particular piece of world literature in detail Kafka's Ethics of Interpretation Jennifer L.

Geddes, 2016-04-30 Kafka's Ethics of Interpretation refutes the oft repeated claim made by Kafka's greatest interpreters including Walter Benjamin and Harold Bloom that Kafka sought to evade interpretation of his writings Jennifer L Geddes shows that this claim about Kafka's deliberate uninterpretability is not only wrong it also misconstrues a central concern of his work Kafka was not trying to avoid or prevent interpretation rather his works are centrally concerned with it Geddes explores the interpretation that takes place within and in response to Kafka's writings and pairs Kafka's works with readings of Sigmund Freud Pierre Bourdieu Tzvetan Todorov Emmanuel Levinas and others She argues that Kafka explores interpretation as a mode of power and violence but also as a mode of engagement with the world and others Kafka she argues challenges us to rethink the ways we read texts engage others and navigate the world through our interpretations of them Borges and Kafka, Bolaño and Bloom Juan E. De Castro, 2022-02-15 At a time in which many in the United States see Spanish America as a distinct and for some threatening culture clearly differentiated from that of Europe and the US it may be of use to look at the works of some of the most representative and celebrated writers from the region to see how they imagined their relationship to Western culture and literature In fact while authors across stylistic and political divides like Gabriela Mistral Jorge Luis Borges or Gabriel García Márquez see their work as being framed within the confines of a globalized Western literary tradition their relationship rather than epigonal is often subversive Borges and Kafka Bolaño and Bloom is a parsing not simply of these authors reactions to a canon but of the notion of canon writ large and the inequities and erasures therein It concludes with a look at the testimonial and autobiographical writings of Rigoberta Menchú and Lurgio Gavilán who arguably represent the trajectory of Indigenous testimonial and autobiographical writing during the last forty years noting how their texts represent alternative ways of relating to national and on occasion Western cultures This study is a new attempt to map writers diverse ways of thinking about locality and universality from within and without what is known as the canon

Modernist Parasites Sebastian Williams, 2023-08-22 Modernist Parasites Bioethics Dependency and Literature Post 1900 analyzes biological and social parasites in the political scientific and literary imagination With the rise of Darwinism eugenics and parasitology in the late nineteenth century Sebastian Williams posits that the parasite came to be humanity's ultimate other a dangerous antagonist But many authors such as Isaac Rosenberg John Steinbeck Franz Kafka Clarice Lispector Nella Larsen and George Orwell reconsider parasitism Ultimately parasites inherently depend on others for their survival illustrating the limits of ethical models that privilege the discrete individual above interdependent communities

Landscape History Sarah Coleman, AI, 2025-02-26. Landscape History investigates the profound ways landscapes influence human culture, thought, and creativity. It explores how our environment shapes literature, philosophy, and cultural identities worldwide, highlighting that landscapes are not merely backdrops but active forces. The book examines how landscapes serve as symbolic canvases imbued with cultural meanings, reflecting identity and memory. It also delves into how encounters with diverse terrains spark philosophical inquiries about humanity's place in the universe, existentialism, and consciousness. The book unfolds in three parts, beginning with key concepts like environmental determinism and cultural landscape theory. It then presents case studies from various regions and historical periods, such as the pastoral landscape's impact on Romantic poetry and the urban environment's influence on modernist literature. Finally, it synthesizes these arguments, discussing the implications of landscape history for environmental conservation, cultural preservation, and national identity. This interdisciplinary approach, drawing from literature, history, geography, philosophy, and art history, seeks to bridge scholarly research with general readership, providing a comprehensive understanding of our relationship with the environment.
