Tim Burton is a very unique and well known director. Not by the amount of movies he does but by the way he uses the stylistic devices. No one like him uses these stylistic devices like he does. For example Tim Burton uses tone, characterization, and setting. He uses them very effectively in his movie Edward Scissorhand's.

For example, one kind of tone that Tim Burton used in Edward Scissorhand's was the neighborhood ladies. They were very gossipy and rude. You could tell that they were never taught etiquette. Once they saw a new person come to the neighborhood they would call one neighbor to the next. They would constantly harass Peg to see her visitor. Peg was a very neutral person that Tim Burton made she was very protective over Edward. They rudely came to her house and invited them to a barbeque that peg never was going to have. Once they met Edward and got their hands on him they were obsessed. They wouldn't leave him alone. Once one found another advantage that Edward could do with his Scissorhand's they would all copycat each other and use Edward. They were obsessed with him to the point where he had no more to give them and then they realized that and turned against him.

Moreover, an example of characterization that Tim Burton used was Edward. Tim Burton made Edward into this very unique character. He looked very gothic and creepy, but as soon as he talked his voice was so gentle and soft. His voice was so different that it was like it wasn't even him. He was sweet and had a etiquette personality with a gothic image. The only thing that

The dominance of the male gaze in Hollywood Films Isabelle Fol, 2006-03-16 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The way in which media systems reflect our social environment and specifically how they represent and disseminate gender role models and have a lasting effect on the construction of identity is of long standing interest both in Gender Studies and in the literary and the visual arts In order to examine in particular the representation of women in the visual art of popular cinema The Dominance of the Male Gaze in Hollywood Films will thus focus on the image of women in mainstream Hollywood films Although media and specifically television and films are often considered to act largely as a social mirror films in fact often distort social reality and continue to reflect traditional stereotypical gender constructions In fact these traditional gender images are not simply mirrors of real life but also ideological signifiers In many mainstream films that pretend to depict reality a time lag separates true social circumstances from the film reality the movie produces Consequently this time lag also manifest in filmic representations of gender roles means for the women s movement that feminists have hardly been able to enact new images of women outside the patriarchal context of popular films or change female stereotypes and incorporate feminist thought into mainstream films Thus mainstream films do not propagate an image of emancipated women quite the reverse women are subordinate objects of the male gaze This general assumption has led to this thesis which will deal with the question of whether Hollywood films as representative of mainstream culture still disseminate patriarchal images of women dominated by the male gaze even though feminist thought has been part of our society for some decades now Located at the intersection of Media Studies Cultural Studies Sociology and Gender Studies this thesis will mainly follow the theoretical approach of the feminist film critic Laura Mulvey who developed the concept of the male gaze in her essay Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema Mulvey s concept shall contribute to the analysis of the thesis that the images of women in Hollywood films still correspond to conservative patriarchal stereotypes Within the scope of this still valid thesis one of the major restrictions was to narrow down the film analysis to merely Hollywood film production The reason for this restriction is first of all that Hollywood films representative of popular taste are globally
