Sub: Complaint letter concerning management issues

Respected Sir,

My name is Helen Fernandes and I am working as Sales Executive for SB Companies Pvt. Ltd for last 2 years. I am writing this letter to inform you that it has been a week since I had applied for a five-day leave, from 2nd May, 2014 to 7th May, 2014 but unfortunately, there hasn't been any response yet and hence I was compelled to write to you one more time to ensure my plea is looked after properly. I have always been an admirer of your managerial abilities and the organizational skills you exhibit in the tasks concerning the company. I have never faced such a condition earlier where my request or petition(s) had been overlooked. I am sure there has been some sort of miscommunication for which the appeal still remains unattended to. But I would like to inform you that it is extremely urgent for me to have this leave granted as I have to leave station for a very important personal issue. I would understand if there's a problem related to the same, but please do let me know within this week, for I would then have a scope to revise the plans accordingly.

I would be obliged if you could deal with this issue at the earliest, as I would again like to state that this leave is very important for me. I would be looking forward to your reply.

Yours sincerely,

Helen Fernandes

Minchin,2013-01-01 In the 1960s and 1970s the textile industry's workforce underwent a dramatic transformation as African Americans entered the South's largest industry in growing numbers. Only 3.3 percent of textile workers were black in 1960; by 1978, this number had risen to 25 percent. Using previously untapped legal records and oral history interviews, Timothy Minchin crafts a compelling account of the integration of the mills. Minchin argues that the role of a labor shortage in spurring black hiring has been overemphasized, pointing instead to the federal government's influence in pressing the textile industry to integrate. He also highlights the critical part played by African American activists. Encouraged by passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, black workers filed antidiscrimination lawsuits against nearly all of the major textile companies. Still, Minchin notes, even after the integration of the mills, African American workers encountered considerable resistance. Black women faced continued hiring discrimination, while black men found themselves shunted into low-paying jobs with little hope of promotion.
